RUMORS RELATIVE TO THE SUPREME COURT VACANCY.

Judge Gresham Said to Have Been Asked to Accept the Position—A Chance for Judge Brown of Detroit.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—A rumor was current about the clubs and hotels today to the effect that Judge Walter G. Gresham of the Federal court had been appointed to fill the vacancy on the Supreme bench caused by the death of Justice Miller. The rumor was finally traced to the gentleman who has been traced to Judge Gresham had received a dispatch from Washington, asking him if he would be willing to accept the office and saying it would be given him if he desired it. The informant reluctantly said this much and declined to give any further particulars. Mrs. Gresham was found at the Palmer house, but the judge had gone. On Sunday and his wife said she knew nothing of the rumored offer. "No mail was sent here to Judge Gresham today," she volunteered.

"Or telegrams" asked the reporter. "Well, I cannot say anything about it. Judge Gresham is down at his farm; you had better see him on his return."

Mrs. Gresham was not inclined to talk further on the subject—a reluctance which would have been most natural had the rumor been a matter of official record. In speaking about an unofficial offer such as the alleged telegram is supposed to have been, she said she had no objection to the subject. The appointment of Judge Gresham, if the rumor proves to be correct, will be a surprise and a disappointment to the Republicans at large. Judge Gresham's decisions on the bench have been uniformly correct. He is generally recognized as a lawyer of the highest position a qualification for the highest position a lawyer can attain. The strength of the embargo upon him in favor of Judge Gresham, which he himself checked before the last Republican national convention, was apparent to every politician in the city at the time. His conduct in declining to forward the effort of supporters anxious to force him on him, created a debt which the Republicans of the city are anxious to think upon to recognize and repay in a way which the present vacancy suggests.

A Chance for Judge Brown.

Washington, Oct. 19.—The question as to the successor to late Justice Miller upon the Supreme bench continues to receive not a little attention in political circles here. Secretary Noble, Attorney General Miller, Judge Gresham of Chicago and Justice Brandeis are all talked of. Judge Brown, it is known, was seriously considered when the late Justice Miller was in the hospital. It is thought, however, that President Harrison's regard for the late Justice Miller, and the fact that Attorney General Miller, may lead him to select one or the other of these. The probability of Judge Brown's being expressed, however, that Judge Gresham will be the appointee.

IT DON'T PAN OUT.

The North American Company Disappointed in the Selling Business.

New York, Oct. 19.—The new owners of the North American Company, who were obtained from the Government, are manifesting a feeling of disappointment, growing out of the poor yield at St. Paul and St. George islands this season, compared with the catch of last year. The Government has sold the company the franchise. There has been a decrease of 50 per cent in the business of the administration. The islands are being overworked, and the inspectors think this is too much. They got up a petition to the Government, but it will be forwarded to Washington. Most of the inspectors are their own countrymen. They are not as strict as they should be. They are not as strict as they should be. They are not as strict as they should be.

CUBAN CIGARS.

The industry analyzed by the McKinley tariff. Washington, Oct. 19.—Cuba's principal industry, cigar-making, seems practically paralyzed as a result of the McKinley act. Tobacco growers are begging the government to relax the tariff, and reciprocally—preferably the latter—and the Spanish officials are so intent upon the conversion of their national debt into bonds of the McKinley tariff, that they are not at all disposed to relax the tariff. The McKinley tariff is the only hope, therefore, but nothing can be done now. The McKinley tariff is the only hope, therefore, but nothing can be done now. A New Field for Women.

Baltimore, Oct. 19.—The McKinley and Kings County elevated railroad is causing consternation among the ticket agents on their road by declaring that within two weeks they will replace every ticket agent on the road by women. They claim that the pay of men, which is now $24 a week, can be reduced by the government of women. The ticket agents of this city are in high glare over the company's action.

Dissension Among the Trustees of Talmage's Tabernacle.

New York, Oct. 19.—There is a slight rift of dissension in the board of seven trustees which has been managing the big Brooklyn Tabernacle. The terms of two of the trustees, John Wood, who is also treasurer, and Mr. W. Moade, have expired, and each has been nominated and looked for re-election. This year Mr. Wood has not been re-nominated by the board, and Senator James W. Birkett has been nominated for the place. An effort, it is said, has been made to drop Mr. Wood, and it only failed through the powerful interposition of the Rev. Dr. Talmage. Mr. Wood's popularity, it seems has been on the wane since the new Tabernacle building enterprise was started, and his alleged attempt to run the entire concern himself, especially during Dr. Talmage's trip to the Holy Land, has proved not only displeasing to some of the trustees, but also to the members of the society. Senator Birkett's nomination as a trustee was brought about in the most unorthodox manner, and it is understood, arose from his activity as a member of the board. Dr. Harrison A. Tucker, president of the board of trustees, said last night that he had no objection to Mr. Wood's re-election, if it were possible, the re-election of Mr. Wood was successful. HELENA, MONT., Oct. 19.—There is considerable excitement in labor circles here over the proposed bill of the Labor party this morning published a card withdrawing their candidate, Mr. Field, from the congressional race, claiming a lack of funds. The local labor leaders are up in arms and declare they will support Field at their own expense. The bill is a withdrawal of a woman's name.

Abused a Woman's Confidence.

LINCOLN, NEB., Oct. 19.—Several days ago Geo. Hughes and Miss Anna Howard were married. The bridegroom, named Douglas Martin, greatly resembled the other. The lady mistook Martin for the groom, and was married to him. She discovered the mistake only the next day, and she has since been a widow. The man who was married to her is now in prison for a crime.

THE REPUBLICAN CHIEFTAINS AT THE MORTON YESTERDAY.

The Would-be Governor Denounces McCreary as a Liar and a Scoundrel—The People's Comment to the Free Press.

The Morton house yesterday was the scene to which many of the faithful members of the G. O. P. wended their way. They thronged in the lobby and rotunda, each eagerly awaiting an opportunity to pay tribute to their chief. But James M. Turner and Robert E. Frazer were at dinner and nothing could induce them to relinquish their chicken for the plaudits of a multitude. Frazer had been there before and did not hanker after the enthusiastic greeting which he knew was coming because, said he, "you know I am tired. I have spoken to 500,000 people this fall, and have shaken hands until I am tired." But Mr. Turner was different; he spoke openly and was going to open the election fight. When asked why he did not hanker after the enthusiastic greeting which he knew was coming because, said he, "you know I am tired. I have spoken to 500,000 people this fall, and have shaken hands until I am tired." But Mr. Turner was different; he spoke openly and was going to open the election fight.

How the Political Orators Handle the Egg-Talk—A Field for a New Local Paper.

THEY WILL HAVE IT!

The Many Buy It But Some Sneaks Steal It.

There is always more or less trouble experienced in circulating a morning paper by carriers. Even so, well regulated offices "kicks" are frequently received from subscribers who failed to get their paper. To the publishers and circulators these "kicks" are sometimes annoying, and frequently they are quite annoying. They are of various forms: sometimes polite and business-like, but frequently they are made in a cranky, insulting, disagreeable manner. There are people whose minds are so small that they can not comprehend that the circulators are equally interested with themselves in the prompt and regular delivery of the paper. Such people when they miss a paper at once conclude that the circulator has cut them off purposely, and "kick" with the idea that the circulator ordered the boy to skip them in order that he might save the paper. Some imagine that the carrier boy has a pocket full of money, and that he has the opportunity to denounce him, and would kick a quarrel with him if they got up early enough to see him.

The political pot is boiling briskly. Meetings are held almost every night and the voters are in a sad quandary. The Republican orators extol the benefit from the McKinley tariff, and the Democratic orators extol the benefit from the McKinley tariff. Here is something I found in a New York paper, which might be applied to many cases here at home. A good story is told about Admiral Braine's encounter with a tough and pugacious old employe in the Brooklyn navy yard. A few days after the new commander took charge of the yard he was strolling about came upon an old man seated on a stone and laboriously drawing a picture on the blank side of a book cover. Thinking to have a little chat with one who looked as though he had grown old in the service, the admiral said pleasantly: "Well, my good man, what are you doing?" "None of your business," replied the surly fellow, without looking up. Considerably taken aback by this rude repulse of his friendly overtures, the admiral looked at the man for a few seconds and then said: "I am Admiral Braine, the commandant of this yard. Are you a crew member, old man, looking up?" "Well, all I kin say is, you've got a mighty fine job, and I'd like 'er to stick to it!"

THE HORTICULTURIST'S MEETING: The October meeting of the Grand River Valley Horticultural society will be held in the Grange hall at the village of Herrington, the third station west of the Muskegon branch of the G. This permits but a short session, but arrangements are made for utilizing the time to the fullest extent. Many members, if the day proves pleasant, will go with their own carriages, and enjoy a delightful ride. As is expected to be discussed: "The Apple Orchard," "Varieties to Plant," "Grafting Old Orchards," "Marketing of Canning," "Marketing and Storing Apples."

TO BENEFIT OTHERS.

An Interesting Interview With a Prominent Citizen of Grand Rapids. "No, I can't say that I like the idea of being interviewed, and I have a strong aversion to appearing in print, but in this particular instance I consider it a duty as well as a pleasure to give this statement, from the fact that I trust it will prove of benefit to others."

"I noticed two years ago," he continued, "I noticed that my throat was beginning to trouble me. At first I gave it but little attention, thinking it would soon disappear, but in this it was mistaken, and instead of getting better it grew worse. I soon found that I took cold easily and my nose would stop up. There was a constant tickling sensation in my throat which caused me to cough, and there seemed to be something there which I could not get up nor down. I would cough so hard and continuously that it was impossible for me to get any rest, or allow anyone else to sleep that was in hearing distance. This continued for some time, and I found that something must be done or it would certainly terminate in some serious ailment. "I used various remedies and tried to protect myself as much as possible from any sudden change of temperature, but in spite of all I continued to grow worse. My condition worried me, as well as the fact that it seemed impossible for me to obtain relief from any source. It was about this time that I saw Mr. Edgde's statement in the daily papers in regard to his treatment by Dr. Brown at No. 43 Leasure street, and as his case seemed to be similar to mine so far as the throat and cough were concerned, I thought I would call on the doctor and see if he could help me. "I did so, and after talking the matter over concluded to place myself in his care. I soon found that I had made no mistake, in fact I was surprised at my improvement. My cough rapidly disappeared, my throat symptoms left me, I can rest well at night, I feel good, and in fact feel as well as I ever did before my trouble commenced. As the doctor before me was not anxious to appear in print and would not if I did not consent that the Doctor had done a great deal for me, and might be the means of assisting some one else in obtaining relief who have been suffering as I have been. "Any one that feels interested in this matter and wishes this statement verified can find me at 20 South Division street. Omees, 53 Lagave street. Hours, 9 to 11 a. m. 1 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m. Sundays, 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. Direct mail to or call on Dr. E. BROWN, 43 Lagave street, Grand Rapids, Mich.
