has been and is still sympathizing with the new Christ fanatics, but is here in the line of the old ones, and continues very silent and he is being closely watched. A false move on his part would result in his arrest, and he seems to be thoroughly bent on producing an uprising.

Righted Settlers.
AMERSON, Nov. 21.—Advices from Eureka state that settlers of Eureka and Campbell counties are flocking into that place on account of a well defined rumor that the Sioux are to take to war path tomorrow. Five hundred people from the counties are now at Eureka. Lagrange, on the Missouri river, is completely depopulated. It was reported this morning that two men had been shot and scalped by Indians, but this is not credited. The sheriff of Campbell county writes that there is a large body of Sioux on the north side of Missouri. The people are greatly excited and are appealing to Governor Mellette and Mayor Moody of this city for relief and ammunition.

Gen. Schofield said this afternoon that all that could be done in the way of preparation for any outbreak is being done. "We notified Gen. Miles a few days ago," said he, "that all available troops not only in his division, but elsewhere, were placed in readiness and placed at his disposal. It is about there that the Indians are getting ready. Everything is being put in readiness, and while we hope that there will be no outbreak, and we do not expect that there will be. We are prepared to meet any emergency no matter what that may be."

Francis Reed skins with guns strapped on their backs.
PEER RIDER AGENCY, S. D., Nov. 21.—The dancing Indians have put agency and the surrounding country in a state of terror. The still going on under the name of the Wounded Knees and other chiefs, are still gazing at Wounded Knee Creek, White Clay and Medicine Root, and the Indians have their guns strapped on their backs as they dance.

Gen. Brooks, who is in command of the troops which arrived yesterday held a long consultation during the day with Indian Agent Royer and special Indian Agent Cooper. It is probable that with the Indian hands and arms, and made to stop the dancing at present. Both Indian agents said at the consultation that the dancing is certainly going on. They confirm the reports that armed Indians dancing at the agency, and that the Indians are probably moving about the reservation. Several days will be passed before the dancing is stopped. THE LAST NEWS FROM WOUNDED KNEE which came in last night was to the effect that the dancing is still going on, and that the Indians collected there were excited, threatening and defiant. The reports from the troops coming was repeated there and only excited threats in response. The Indian police are still working was advising them and encouraging them every day, and that the dances "if the soldiers come here," they said, "we will treat them the way we did the Indians at the reservation."

HOW THE SOLDIERS PROPOSE TO TREAT THE SOLDIERS.
OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 21.—A special to the Bee from Pine Ridge reports affairs temporarily quiet, though intensely unquiet. Gen. Henshaw has issued orders at Washington regarding whether or not he will interfere with the ghost dance, the stimulating factor of the Messiah craze. The ghost dances is now going on at Wounded Knee, 16 miles north and at Fort Copie, 30 miles north, while a scout who has just come in reports that a band of 500 copper faces has appeared at a point only nine miles to the north of the Indian reservation. The Indians are dancing with rifles strapped upon their backs. The Indians dancing at Wounded Knee announce openly that if the soldiers attempt to take Little Wagon Creek Red Cloud and Little Road, they have been thinking of attacking the Indian soldiers and otherwise main them. Every officer on the ground, especially in view of the military situation, is in a state of anxiety.

TO BE SHOT MORE EXPEDITIOUSLY is to say that 6,000 or 8,000 Indians may sweep down upon the agency at any moment. The Gen. Henshaw's secretary, Mr. Red Cloud, is a prominent figure in the "red devils" movement. It is reported that "red devils" will arrive before the "red devils" make their break."

WEEKLY GRADE REVIEW

LOWER CLASSES THE MOST PROMINENT FEATURE.

No other noticeable feature of the stringency in the money market—Bank Clearings and Record of Business Failures.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Special telegrams to Bradstreet's from forty or more important cities indicate that while the stringency in the money market has been pronounced, there have been no serious results to general trade. Call loans in New York city have ranged from 1/4 to 1/2 per cent higher and few time loans are reported. Commercial discounts have been held at unchanged rates, except at some of the larger eastern cities.

Wheat prices have declined 4 and 5 cents, corn and oats 2 1/2 cents, pork 1/2 cent per barrel cheaper and lead is off 1/2 cent.

Pig iron is no stronger and steel rails are quoted at $28.50.

Exports of wheat and flour from both coasts equal 2,283,671 bushels this week. In the same week last year they amounted to 1,962,368 bushels, and last week to 2,323,311 bushels.

The September net railroad earnings are favorable when contrasted with August and July statements, in which decreases from last year are reported. The net earnings of the country reports gain over last year except the northern section.

Dry goods are in light demand, partly owing to the financial stringency, but the demand for woolens and woollens are in high esteem. We have neither the time nor the inclination for debauchery and we want our leaders to be men that we can take by the hand.

When Joseph Bigger died leaving a good deal of property to an illegitimate son and the son's mother, we were a good deal surprised and shocked, but this case is far worse. How can we condemn the aristocracy for their licentiousness if our leaders are no less licentious in their domestic behavior.

MARRIAGE LOSING GAME

A GRAND RAPIDS MAN WANTED AS A WITNESS.

The Names of Some of Her "Suckers" Suppressed—She Proposes to Call Some Distinguished Witnesses.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—Miss Mary Ryan is a very literary person. Yesterday, between her scoffs at witnesses, she pursued a work on "The Life of Christ from Manager to Father." This morning when she took her seat before the jury in Judge Baker's court, she opened a large and fully illustrated book entitled "Washington and the Republic," but she quickly closed the book and began writing inaudible and sarcastic comments upon the testimony of the first witness, a Mrs. Hogan, who admitted she kept a place far from respectable on La Salle street, where Miss Ryan boarded five or six years ago.

Miss Ryan's lawyer made matters worse by his cross-examination, but when he had finished blackening his client's character Mrs. Hogan got down from the stand, and as she passed the "society friends" women she stopped long enough to shake "Crazy Mary's" hand and whisper a word of encouragement. It was the first sign of brightening up considerably. Mrs. Hogan had been a very unwilling witness, but she had been brought into court on an attachment.

Lawyer Hardy, who told the most interesting story of the case, had been examined yesterday, having, as he said, been told by Miss Ryan about all the facts of the case. He had to stand once more this morning to be subjected to an alleged cross-examination. He had declined to have anything to do with it. I told her that the articles written in the paper were about her relations with the woman was a blackmailer, and that a suit would result in her default and consequent public exposure and ruin.

The declaration in the case had been made and Hardy had been asked to make affidavit to the effect that the parties were not connected in any way. He refused to do so, and he had said at the time that he would have nothing to do with it, and that he had said as the woman was a blackmailer.

"Did you go and see Judge—" and Mr. Hardy had said he had not. He had, however, written a letter to Miss Ryan in relation to the case, but she had refused to take her case but had grown lukewarm.

George S. B. Foster gave testimony second in interest to that of Mr. Ryan, and he had said that he had come into his office several years ago for the purpose of selling a book. With her money she had bought a house and he had just left the office of the handsome man who had been her lover.

Mr. Trade interrupted with, "Was that my office?" This sally was greeted with a laugh by the jury.

LANSING, Nov. 21.—In the Detroit election cases the Supreme court requires that the board of canvassers shall file a denial. THE SPRING ELECTION.

The Republican convention is called to meet in Jackson February 23. This convention will nominate a candidate for Supreme Judge in place of Judge Champlin.

Unquestionably Judge Champlin will be the favorite choice of the Republicans. It is said, I will push for the nomination of T. J. O'Brien or Judge Montgomery of this city.

The Democrats will be taken at a disadvantage at an election because about that time there will be a great many sore heads. Judge Champlin, however, has shown himself an able and honest judge and will be stronger than his party.

An Old Slave's Romance.

A colored woman, bent nearly double with eighty years and a heavy bundle, was seen by her white neighbor, Mrs. Lincoln, yesterday afternoon.

Approaching the clerk of the boat she slowly walked toward the corner of her residence. She carried a bundle of old clothes and a bundle of old clothes.

In ante-bellum days she was a slave, and was owned by a planter near Asheville, N. C. At an early age she was sold to another planter. The woman consented to work on the North Carolina plantation and at about the time was again married. Her whole family was then sold to a Virginia man.

When the emancipation proclamation was promulgated the family took advantage of their freedom and journeyed northward, finally taking up their home in Louisville, Ky.
