

ONLY A SHORT BECESS

TRUMP FOR REFORMERS IN THE STATE LEGISLATURE

Senator Taylor Outwitted by the Democrats—A Slip at the Mining School—A Plumb for Dudley O. Watson

LANSING, Jan. 23.—Representative Hall (not the legislative chamber, but Devere Hall of Ogemaw county) must win today evening. To answer the protest of Eugene Kelly, who says to secure Mr. Hall's seat by the house committee on elections this morning, and the house was of the same mind. It was voted to refer the bill to the house tenderly looking out for the interests of the farmer when the oleomargarine bill came up in the committee of the whole this morning. They were very generous regarding what they told of their love for the farmer, but they wished all after the enabling clause stricken out of the bill prohibiting the use of oleomargarine and but in the state institutions. The bill was recommended to the committee on public health.

The P. I. senators did their daily sennet suit in the senate this afternoon. They had finally come to the conclusion of the present session. They ought to appoint the appointment committee instead of the senate electing it. Following out their convictions with their votes, the committee will be appointed to-day.

The Democratic senators thought they would not wait two days for Senator Taylor to move to reconsider the vote by which the resolution relative to the adjournment was passed so they stole a march on the general assembly and moved a reconsideration themselves. The motion for a reconsideration was tabled so the legislature stands adjourned from now until next week.

After passing a bill allowing the members of the Upper Peninsula 83 per cent of the general fund, the senate voted to appoint D. O. Watson to be a member of the board of managers of the state house of correction at Ionia for six years and to be a member of the board of managers of the state house of correction at Ionia for six years and to be a member of the board of managers of the state house of correction at Ionia for six years.

Representative Doremus evidently thought that the Michigan mining school would be a success. He offered two resolutions in the house this afternoon regarding the mining school. The first resolution provided that the house should appropriate $100,000 for the maintenance of the school. The second resolution provided that the house should appropriate $100,000 for the maintenance of the school.

The colored race is receiving recognition from the Democratic party. S. P. Pecker, a colored divine, opened the session of the Michigan conference of the colored people and the reverend gentleman is built on the most sound plan. Michigan beef and mutton ought to be good enough for the use of the state institutions. There is no reason why Michigan meat should be inferior to that of any other state.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

The sale of "Ben Hur" is already quite large, and the indications are that large audiences will witness the production of the magnificent spectacle.

The striking scenes in Gen. Low Wallace's remarkable story are presented by means of a series of beautiful tableaux, enhanced by pantomimic action and gorgeous electrical scenery.

A matinee performance of "Little Trictrac" will be given at the Lyceum theater this afternoon, and it is expected that the newboys who were invited to witness the performance Thursday, will present Miss Robbins with a handsome lot of pieces, purchased by the boys, who will each contribute a penny for that purpose.

Mr. Hartman is arranging another course to follow the present one when it is completed. The additional course will consist of three lectures and three concerts of the same order as those already heard this season and the price of course tickets will be $1.

The last matinee at which the wonderful gymnastic performance of the Japanese family will be seen at Smith's opera house, will be given this afternoon. The performance in its entirety is above the average.

Next Monday evening the Burns club will give an annual celebration of the poet's birthday at the Bridge Street house. A supper, concert and ball are on the programme and an interesting time is anticipated.

January settlements caused less than expected. The general business of the week was quiet. The market for bread stuffs is stronger. The market for wool is firmer. The market for leather quiet. Cotton goods are weaker.

Exports of domestic products continue larger than a year ago and the excess of exports over imports is increasing. The stock market is comparatively quiet. The market for wheat is steady. The market for corn is steady.

For the United States, 331; for Canada, 49; total, 380, against 411 last week.

LAWLESS STRIKERS.

An Engine Disabled on the Chicago & Erie Road.

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—First symptoms of lawlessness in the Chicago & Erie strike were manifested at Huntington last night. An engine drawing a passenger train was disabled at that point, and had to be towed to the shops. Three other passenger trains were also stopped at Huntington by a mob, according to General Manager Tucker. He says a number of the telegraph operators are acting in bad faith, and that several wires have been cut.

General Manager Tucker said in an interview that he has no prospect of any change in the situation for 24 or 48 hours yet. We are making preparations, however, to put the wheels in motion again, and I think we will have no trouble in running the road without Mr. Scott. It will be some time, however, that any trains will be moved today.

JUDGE BURCH'S SEAT

Reinstates it for the Present—Mr. Aditt's Claim is Yet Unsettled.

LANSING, Jan. 23.—At the session of the Michigan supreme court today an opinion was handed down relative to the Circuit Judgeship held by Judge Burch. The court sustains the validity of the law establishing the office, but says that Judge Luce had no right to make a removal until the general election. Judge Burch, however, having been legally appointed for the term which the governor did have the right to fill, is entitled to hold the office until the next general election.

The question as to whether Mr. Aditt has the right to make a removal is still unsettled. The court says that the removal of a judge is a political act, and that the governor has no right to remove a judge until the next general election.

The court also says that the removal of a judge is a political act, and that the governor has no right to remove a judge until the next general election.

THE CLOTURE DEBATE

MAKES THURSDAY LAST UNTIL SATURDAY IN THE SENATE

More Talk from Senator Gray Ends with a Reference to the "Cloture" Rule.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The senate at 11 o'clock in the continuation of yesterday's session, and the vice-president immediately recognized Mr. Cockrell to proceed with his speech, pending which Mr. Gray raised the point that he had no objection to the cloture rule. The roll-call was: Chandler of New Hampshire, who has been absent for some time, made his appearance in the senate chamber, only thirty-eight senators responded, but at 11:10 the requisite number to make a quorum (forty-five) had appeared (the late Sen. Mr. Aldrich and business was proceeded with. Mr. Cockrell thereupon resumed the floor in order to continue his argument against the cloture rule.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—In the senate at the conclusion of Senator Cockrell's remarks, Senator Gray spoke in opposition to the cloture rule. He regretted that debate upon the cloture rule had been thus needlessly interrupted; that the discussion was progressing peacefully and to the edification of the entire country, if not the senate. He thought that the cloture rule was a violation of the freedom of the press. It was not an effort of a partisan majority to obstruct legislation. Great newspapers who reflect public opinion had antagonized this measure. At this point Mr. Sherman called attention to the fact that he was discussing the election bill and not the cloture resolution; that he had previously spent two days in discussing the election bill and would now speak upon the point at issue.

Senator Gray replied that the senator from New Hampshire had not known his superior age and experience and great service as a public official would be of any use to him in the senate. He said that he had known his superior age and experience and great service as a public official would be of any use to him in the senate.

WANTS THEIR RIGHTS.

A Member of the Potawatomi Tribe

An Indian named Foster now living in Allegan county is in the city looking after the rights of the Potawatomi tribe of which he is a member. In 1834 a treaty was made at Ladland and certain lands to the government. The heirs of this property believe they are entitled to some showing and have understood the government had set a time for hearing the proof of their claim. Mr. Foster called at the United States attorneys office yesterday to inquire if he had received instructions to appear at the examination now to be held at Hamilton, Allegan county. He said that the district attorney says he has not been informed of the case and has no showing of its nature further than reported by Foster.

THE DOCK LINE

Property Owners Have Finally Agreed as to Where It Shall Be Established.

A round dozen prominent citizens have agreed to a plan for the establishment in the supervisors' ward at the city hall yesterday afternoon to take action in the matter of establishing a new dock line. Adolph Lettelt was chosen chairman of the committee. The dock line committee appointed January 20, composed of C. C. Constock, W. H. Powers, C. G. A. Volz, Maurice Shanahan and C. G. Swensberg, to draw outlines of the proposed new dock lines, submitted their report to the city board of supervisors. The report was amended as follows:

The west line of the dock commences at a point near the west pier of the G. R. & I. railroad bridge, thence north on a straight line to and the rear of the foundation walls of the Crescent mills, thence in a straight line to the inside of the center of Bridge street, 32 feet inside the west pier of the bridge, thence north to the guard gates at the dam, thence north to the west abutment of Sixth street bridge, thence to the east face of the west pier of the G. R. & I. railroad bridge, thence north to the city limits.

The east line starts at a point on Bridge street, thence north to the west pier of the G. R. & I. railroad bridge, thence north on a straight line to the northwest corner of the city hall, thence north on a straight line to a point midway between the first and second piers of Bridge street bridge, thence north to the face of the east abutment of Sixth street bridge, thence north to the second pier of the bridge, thence north on a straight line due north to the city limits.

The lines at all points will be 40 feet apart, the channel 80 feet wide. The streets will be 100 feet wide, each side making concessions, neither one getting all they asked. Messrs. Powers and Lettelt were the only speakers who engaged attorneys to confer with Judge Burch to draft the bill to be presented at the next meeting of the city board of supervisors. The bill then as drafted will be subject to revision if so desired by the board.

Mr. Omick in his address to the board strongly advocated a better railroad route. Judge Burch in a few well chosen words expressed his opinion in favor of the necessity of being harmonious and also of perfectly understanding each other. The board then adjourned until next week. The board would not have to be called in to knock bolts in the dock line bill.

It is his familiar reading complaints and advertisements at the board of the city. He is gullible or not gullible—perhaps he is wise or not. Second Citizen—A "Public Opinion" and it's a big figure, I tell you. It is undoubtedly to decide whether or not Municipal park will be turned into a hack stand.

YEAST AND PICKLES.

SUBJECTS DISCUSSED BY THE GROCERS LAST NIGHT.

Tin Foil Cakes of Yeast Must be Increased in Size and Pickles Must be Warranted Full Count.

The grocers' meeting called last night at Grocers' hall was largely attended and quite interesting. The object of the meeting was to take some action looking to an improvement in the condition of the yeast trade.

M. C. Goossen called the meeting to order and after announcing its object was elected chairman. Mr. Goossen stated that the meeting had been called for the good of all dealers and hoped dealer present would be free in expressing his mind upon the subject of yeast, which as he was getting to be a serious question with the young men of the trade.

It was thought that a secretary should be elected, and the honors of that office fell to B. S. Harris. Mr. Goossen read several letters touching on the yeast question and the best of the yeast trade. He maintained in full view its present size did not give satisfaction owing to the size of the cakes as much as anything. He said the people were getting to be very particular for the money, and unless the Fleischmann company would consent to increase the size of the cake he would be compelled to use bulk yeast. He read several letters from his customers endorsing the use of bulk yeast.

He also read a letter signed by 125 letters asking him to continue the sale of bulk yeast. He said the people were getting to be very particular for the money, and unless the Fleischmann company would consent to increase the size of the cake he would be compelled to use bulk yeast.
