

DEEDS OF CAPTIVITY

THE CHILIAN WAR SHIP PUTS TO SEA.

Deputy Marshal Spencer carried the great American flag to the ship and Supplies Paid with British Money.

SAN DIEGO, May 7.—About 1:30 last evening the Chilean steamer Italia left her anchors and quietly steamed down the bay and out to the ocean, carrying with her Deputy U. S. Marshal Spencer, who, as far as is known, is still aboard. The departure of the Italia was not unexpected, though it was not supposed she would leave as soon as she did. It was rumored late in the afternoon that she was preparing to leave, and the absence of any her crew from the streets added weight to the story. At 5 o'clock the captain's gig, which has been lying at the foot of "H" street, pulled out for the vessel with six men aboard, and as soon as the boat was underway the deck the Italia weighed anchor and steamed down the stream.

Marshal Gard was not aware that the captain had any intention of detaching his anchor party for the Italia. He was in the Loma in a launch, The Italia, just one hour ahead of the big steamer, and had passed the point and proceeded some distance out to sea before he could have known that the Italia was following him. Marshal Gard was not aware that the schooner Robert and Minnie was out of the harbor was to take the schooner Robert and Minnie away where she might be found in the open sea outside of the Mexican jurisdiction.

It is known that the marshal received instructions from Washington that he had authority to let the Robert and Minnie on the high seas under the flag of the United States, but when these orders were issued by him he was not aware that the schooner was in the harbor. He was not aware that the schooner was in the harbor, and he was not aware that the schooner was in the harbor.

The meeting place of the schooner and the steamer was at the foot of the international line, about 15 miles southwest of Point Loma. The schooner was seen by the steamer, and the steamer was seen by the schooner. The schooner was seen by the steamer, and the steamer was seen by the schooner.

There has also time been any real doubts in the minds of those best informed as to the fate of the schooner Robert and Minnie carried was intended for the Chilean transport, and that it was to be used for the purpose of carrying the Italia for the insurgents as was reported by the newspapers.

It is reported that the schooner was seen by the steamer, and the steamer was seen by the schooner. The schooner was seen by the steamer, and the steamer was seen by the schooner. The schooner was seen by the steamer, and the steamer was seen by the schooner.

TO HELP FROM CONGRESS

The Fifth District Will Never send a Wealthy Member to Congress.

The ablest and leading Democratic politician in the Fifth District of Michigan is not a wealthy man. Although anti-Cleveland it is a pro-progressive bill, and a political power of Governor Hill may well be proud of. No other Democratic journal east of Detroit has greater prestige or more popular circulation, while Dan's is generally considered "progressive" and "liberal."

And yet, in his commenting on George Francis Adams' late letter to the Western Commercial Congress, the Sun exposed Cleveland as follows: "The whole Farmers' Alliance movement is nothing more nor less than an attempt to improve the condition of the farmer by legislative action and at the expense of the government. The farmers of the south, the southwest and the west have been the beneficiaries of this movement, and it is to be feared that the same will be true of the north."

THE MILK WAS TOO SLOW.

Peter Smith's Fossiliferous Cost Him His Life.

NEWPORT, Ark., May 7.—Peter Smith of Fisher, a station on the Cotton Belt railway, has been in the habit of riding on the street cars of the passenger train on the track for about half a mile to cross, when he would turn and laugh at the trainmen as the train sped by. His success in defeating the train to the street cars was so great that he encouraged them to try it with him, but he neglected his mule, and as the train started, Peter, on his full gallop, fell from the mule and was killed. His head was cut off, both legs out from his body and the remains scattered along the road for some distance.

THE PITTSBURGH STRIKE.

The End Out of Sight at the End of the First Week.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 7.—A week of the builders' strike has passed and there are as yet no signs of an early finish. The builders' exchange people still firmly refuse to grant the carpenters' eight-hour day and the employers' non-union clause. Notwithstanding the threats made in the beginning by exchange members to strike if the non-union clause was not granted, the strike has continued. The striking carpenters have been in the name of district committee, and the employers have been in the name of district committee.

THE HONOLULU FIRE.

LONG ISLAND CITY, May 7.—Fire engines and tug are still playing on the ruins of the greatest fire Long Island City ever had. The aggregate loss will exceed even the estimates already made, and will reach probably $2,000,000. The fire was caused by a gas leak from a pipe in the boiler of a tug.

POLICE AND FIRE BOARD

President More Assumes His Duties and Delivers His Inaugural Address.

At the regular weekly meeting of the board of police and fire commissioners yesterday Commissioner John E. More, whose term expires next year, became president of the board. He acknowledged his promotion by delivering the following address: "Gentlemen—Under the provisions of the law creating this board, it becomes my duty to assume the office of president. I trust I shall have your assistance and forbearance in my earnest endeavor to fulfill the duties of responsibility which shall try to bear the burdens of the office cheerfully and the honors with humility."

The amendment to our city charter recently passed has largely increased the responsibilities of the board. The extension of the city limits has doubled the territory and added 15,000 to the number of people entitled to police and fire protection. Our police force must be increased accordingly, and it is my duty to propose six questions for arbitration.

The first question was that exclusive rights Russia asserted to the sea fisheries previous to the cessation of hostilities in 1854. The second question was that exclusive rights Russia asserted to the sea fisheries previous to the cessation of hostilities in 1854.
