

THE PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

More Points for Mr. Lisle—No. 2. Ernie Morning Press. It is most to a little amusing to the intelligent reader to note with what facility Mr. Lisle is able to mix a little truth with a large share of false reasoning to suit his own theory. It is most remarkable that against Dr. Fair's sermon, he says that the number of people who have believed in a theory, or the number of ages they have so believed, cannot possibly have anything to do with the truth or falsity of the theory, and further, that the sublime grandeur and immutability of known facts must forever tower above the folly of mere belief. All this is so near correct that it is not worth while to criticize it. But when he says, "I have already shown, the idea of God was born of ignorance in the infancy of the race and has been nurtured by credulity, dishonesty and hypocrisy." I affirm it is something he has not shown, neither can it be shown by Mr. Lisle or any other man, simply because there is no truth in the statement, and I defy Mr. Lisle or any atheist on the globe to make that statement good.

But again Mr. L. says, "If as your bible teaches people of other nations are to be damned for believing in a false god, why are we Christians that will meet with a better fate since the truthfulness of all religions is accepted on faith? I could only exclaim that it is not the religion that is the truth, when every intelligent mind is able to realize the immeasurable difference between the false gods and the rational, intelligent faith of the enlightened Christian who has chosen to believe in a true and willful blindness of cruel unbelief."

But again Mr. L. says, "If as your bible teaches people of other nations are to be damned for believing in a false god, why are we Christians that will meet with a better fate since the truthfulness of all religions is accepted on faith? I could only exclaim that it is not the religion that is the truth, when every intelligent mind is able to realize the immeasurable difference between the false gods and the rational, intelligent faith of the enlightened Christian who has chosen to believe in a true and willful blindness of cruel unbelief."

But again Mr. L. says, "If as your bible teaches people of other nations are to be damned for believing in a false god, why are we Christians that will meet with a better fate since the truthfulness of all religions is accepted on faith? I could only exclaim that it is not the religion that is the truth, when every intelligent mind is able to realize the immeasurable difference between the false gods and the rational, intelligent faith of the enlightened Christian who has chosen to believe in a true and willful blindness of cruel unbelief."

But again Mr. L. says, "If as your bible teaches people of other nations are to be damned for believing in a false god, why are we Christians that will meet with a better fate since the truthfulness of all religions is accepted on faith? I could only exclaim that it is not the religion that is the truth, when every intelligent mind is able to realize the immeasurable difference between the false gods and the rational, intelligent faith of the enlightened Christian who has chosen to believe in a true and willful blindness of cruel unbelief."

But again Mr. L. says, "If as your bible teaches people of other nations are to be damned for believing in a false god, why are we Christians that will meet with a better fate since the truthfulness of all religions is accepted on faith? I could only exclaim that it is not the religion that is the truth, when every intelligent mind is able to realize the immeasurable difference between the false gods and the rational, intelligent faith of the enlightened Christian who has chosen to believe in a true and willful blindness of cruel unbelief."

VANQUISHED BY A LADY

MCKINLEY'S TRAFFIC ARGUMENTS DEFEATED BY MRS. DIGGS. A Lively Debate Before an Ohio Audience in Which the Great Protectionist Came Out Second—McKinley Admits That the Farmers Are Very Prostrated.

The following impartial report of which the political arguments of Major McKinley were refuted by the eloquent Mrs. Diggs, of Kansas, will be read with interest by the people everywhere. The Republicans of Richmond county took advantage of Major McKinley's attendance at the Farmers' Institute previous to his coming to this city to bring him at the opera house on the same evening. The People's party men were equally alert and secured Mrs. A. D. Diggs, of Kansas, to reply to the major on the following evening.

Every possible effort was made by the Republicans to reduce to a hand-to-hand demonstration. The band playing, the men hurraed and the regulation number of prominent citizens were flattered by an invitation to take seats on the stage with the distinguished son of Ohio.

The distinguished son was duly introduced and paid his audience the regulation campaign compliments. "I see before me," said Major McKinley, "a well dressed, well fed audience, who never knew they were not in a prosperous condition unless some quick doctor of the law of the Democratic party came after them."

After having imparted to his audience a comfortable sense of their prosperity, he proceeded to discuss in a hand-to-hand demonstration. The band playing, the men hurraed and the regulation number of prominent citizens were flattered by an invitation to take seats on the stage with the distinguished son of Ohio.

The distinguished son was duly introduced and paid his audience the regulation campaign compliments. "I see before me," said Major McKinley, "a well dressed, well fed audience, who never knew they were not in a prosperous condition unless some quick doctor of the law of the Democratic party came after them."

After having imparted to his audience a comfortable sense of their prosperity, he proceeded to discuss in a hand-to-hand demonstration. The band playing, the men hurraed and the regulation number of prominent citizens were flattered by an invitation to take seats on the stage with the distinguished son of Ohio.

The distinguished son was duly introduced and paid his audience the regulation campaign compliments. "I see before me," said Major McKinley, "a well dressed, well fed audience, who never knew they were not in a prosperous condition unless some quick doctor of the law of the Democratic party came after them."

After having imparted to his audience a comfortable sense of their prosperity, he proceeded to discuss in a hand-to-hand demonstration. The band playing, the men hurraed and the regulation number of prominent citizens were flattered by an invitation to take seats on the stage with the distinguished son of Ohio.

The distinguished son was duly introduced and paid his audience the regulation campaign compliments. "I see before me," said Major McKinley, "a well dressed, well fed audience, who never knew they were not in a prosperous condition unless some quick doctor of the law of the Democratic party came after them."

CHARLES F. PECK

As Labor Commissioner of New York State in New York City, he has organized labor in New York for the nomination of Charles F. Peck for lieutenant governor by the Democratic Party of that state. Mr. Peck is the commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics of New York, which office he has held since 1885, and he is credited with administering its affairs with distinguished ability and to the satisfaction of the labor people and the employers of labor in the State. The printer, especially the leading members of No. 6, are very anxious to secure the nomination for Charles F. Peck. Mr. Peck, and while that organization is at times very active in its opposition to political action by trades unions, it has a record of working very hard when it makes exceptions to general rules.

Charles Livingston Peck was born at Nunda, Livingston county, New York, July 20, 1845. At the age of sixteen, Mr. Peck was fitted for college, but in deference to the wishes of his parents, who were averse to his leaving home so early an age, he gave up his plans for a university education and a year later entered the counting room of a large wholesale dry goods importing house in Philadelphia. The business not being to his taste, he returned to New York state and engaged in the profession of journalism, establishing in 1877, the Avon Springs Journal, the first paper published in that village.

Here it was that he learned the printing trade, and there one circumstance in his life in which he takes great pride, and that is in recounting his experience as editor of the Avon Springs Journal. He was in charge of the paper at the time of the election of 1880, and he had the honor of publishing the first paper in that village.

Mr. Peck, who was born at Nunda, Livingston county, New York, July 20, 1845. At the age of sixteen, Mr. Peck was fitted for college, but in deference to the wishes of his parents, who were averse to his leaving home so early an age, he gave up his plans for a university education and a year later entered the counting room of a large wholesale dry goods importing house in Philadelphia.

Mr. Peck, who was born at Nunda, Livingston county, New York, July 20, 1845. At the age of sixteen, Mr. Peck was fitted for college, but in deference to the wishes of his parents, who were averse to his leaving home so early an age, he gave up his plans for a university education and a year later entered the counting room of a large wholesale dry goods importing house in Philadelphia.

Mr. Peck, who was born at Nunda, Livingston county, New York, July 20, 1845. At the age of sixteen, Mr. Peck was fitted for college, but in deference to the wishes of his parents, who were averse to his leaving home so early an age, he gave up his plans for a university education and a year later entered the counting room of a large wholesale dry goods importing house in Philadelphia.

Mr. Peck, who was born at Nunda, Livingston county, New York, July 20, 1845. At the age of sixteen, Mr. Peck was fitted for college, but in deference to the wishes of his parents, who were averse to his leaving home so early an age, he gave up his plans for a university education and a year later entered the counting room of a large wholesale dry goods importing house in Philadelphia.

Mr. Peck, who was born at Nunda, Livingston county, New York, July 20, 1845. At the age of sixteen, Mr. Peck was fitted for college, but in deference to the wishes of his parents, who were averse to his leaving home so early an age, he gave up his plans for a university education and a year later entered the counting room of a large wholesale dry goods importing house in Philadelphia.

FOR LADIES ONLY! THE ONLY TRUE REMEDY FOR THE MONTHLY PERIODS... STEKETEER'S Positive Periodical Preparation

FOR LADIES ONLY! THE ONLY TRUE REMEDY FOR THE MONTHLY PERIODS... STEKETEER'S Positive Periodical Preparation

FOR LADIES ONLY! THE ONLY TRUE REMEDY FOR THE MONTHLY PERIODS... STEKETEER'S Positive Periodical Preparation

FOR LADIES ONLY! THE ONLY TRUE REMEDY FOR THE MONTHLY PERIODS... STEKETEER'S Positive Periodical Preparation

FOR LADIES ONLY! THE ONLY TRUE REMEDY FOR THE MONTHLY PERIODS... STEKETEER'S Positive Periodical Preparation

FOR LADIES ONLY! THE ONLY TRUE REMEDY FOR THE MONTHLY PERIODS... STEKETEER'S Positive Periodical Preparation

FOR LADIES ONLY! THE ONLY TRUE REMEDY FOR THE MONTHLY PERIODS... STEKETEER'S Positive Periodical Preparation

FOR LADIES ONLY! THE ONLY TRUE REMEDY FOR THE MONTHLY PERIODS... STEKETEER'S Positive Periodical Preparation

FOR LADIES ONLY! THE ONLY TRUE REMEDY FOR THE MONTHLY PERIODS... STEKETEER'S Positive Periodical Preparation

FOR LADIES ONLY! THE ONLY TRUE REMEDY FOR THE MONTHLY PERIODS... STEKETEER'S Positive Periodical Preparation

SPECIAL ATTENTION OF THE TRADES! I have in stock now a very fine line of New Styles of Shoes, Both Button and Lace, which are very pretty, and none better to fit or wear.

SHOES! At $5.00! PLEASE BEAR IN MIND THE FOLLOWING INDUCEMENTS: FIRST—We have one price to all.

SHOES! At $5.00! PLEASE BEAR IN MIND THE FOLLOWING INDUCEMENTS: SECOND—Our prices are always as low as can be found in the city.

SHOES! At $5.00! PLEASE BEAR IN MIND THE FOLLOWING INDUCEMENTS: THIRD—Our best goods are made for us especially, and guaranteed to give satisfaction.

SHOES! At $5.00! PLEASE BEAR IN MIND THE FOLLOWING INDUCEMENTS: FOURTH—With all the different styles and widths we seldom fail to fit any one.

SHOES! At $5.00! PLEASE BEAR IN MIND THE FOLLOWING INDUCEMENTS: FIFTH—Customers will always find goods as represented, and can rely upon what they buy.

SHOES! At $5.00! PLEASE BEAR IN MIND THE FOLLOWING INDUCEMENTS: SIXTH—We are always pleased to show goods. Repairing and manufacturing in the latest style and on short notice.

T. J. LUCAS, 88 Monroe Street, Grand Rapids, Mich. EYE CLOTHING Bargain Sellers.

THE NEW PENSION LAW... THE NEW PENSION LAW... THE NEW PENSION LAW...

DR. MILES' Nervine! ADRIAN, DR. LOUIS A. ROLLER, LEHPINK & CO. Lehigh COAL Valley

Table with columns: Grand Rapids & Indiana, TRAINS GOING SOUTH, TRAINS GOING NORTH.

Table with columns: Grand Rapids & Indiana, TRAINS GOING SOUTH, TRAINS GOING NORTH.

Table with columns: Grand Rapids & Indiana, TRAINS GOING SOUTH, TRAINS GOING NORTH.

Table with columns: Grand Rapids & Indiana, TRAINS GOING SOUTH, TRAINS GOING NORTH.

Table with columns: Grand Rapids & Indiana, TRAINS GOING SOUTH, TRAINS GOING NORTH.

Table with columns: Grand Rapids & Indiana, TRAINS GOING SOUTH, TRAINS GOING NORTH.

Table with columns: Grand Rapids & Indiana, TRAINS GOING SOUTH, TRAINS GOING NORTH.

Table with columns: Grand Rapids & Indiana, TRAINS GOING SOUTH, TRAINS GOING NORTH.

Table with columns: Grand Rapids & Indiana, TRAINS GOING SOUTH, TRAINS GOING NORTH.

