THE DEFEATED IRISH LEADER FOLLOWS WILLIAM HENRY SMITH.

St. John Pope Hennessy is Also With Them. All England and Ireland Greeted and Ecstasied--Parnell's Friends in Council at Dublin.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Great Britain and Ireland were startled this morning by the utterly unlooked for announcement that Charles Stewart Parnell, the noted Irish leader, died suddenly yesterday evening at his home in Brighton.

It is well known that Mr. Parnell has not enjoyed the best of health for years past, and it has been noticed and widely commented upon that since the O'Shea divorce developments became known to the public notwithstanding the fact that the great Irish member of parliament had grown thinner and that he had perceptibly aged in appearance.

It was not until the news of his death and not until the publication of the newspapers that it was possible to obtain details in regard to the death of Mr. Parnell. He died at his home, Wexham Terrace, Brighton, at 11:30 yesterday morning.

It is said to have been indirectly due to a chill which he caught last week and which at first was not regarded as being of a serious nature. Mr. Parnell, however, grew worse and a physician was called in, with the result that the patient was ordered to take to his bed.

This was on Friday last, and from that time Mr. Parnell lost strength and finally succumbed. The exact nature of the disease which attacked the Irish leader is not made known at present.

From the day he took to his bed, however, the state of Mr. Parnell's health has been such as to necessitate the constant attendance of two physicians, and it is reported that untiring efforts were protracted to save his life. Mr. Parnell gradually sank lower and lower until he expired in the arms of Mrs. Parnell, who is utterly prostrated by his death.

In this city, particularly, the news of Mr. Parnell's death came down like a thunderbolt upon the clubs and in political circles. Nobody who is conversant with the man was even aware that he became ill, and consequently when it became known that he was ill, the fact was naturally the first idea formed was that he had committed suicide.

It may be said, however, that it leaked out from the statements of his intimate friends that Mr. Parnell had been ill for some time. It is well known as well as usual, but it was not thought by any body that there was anything serious in the ailment referred to by the late member for Cork city, though he was thinner than he was a few months ago.

While Mr. Parnell was speaking at Cregee, it was noticed that he looked the same as he had been in the past. In addition to the fact that he seemed to denote falling health, Mr. Parnell, upon the occasion referred to, was left at the hotel by his friends, upon asking him the cause of this, were informed that he was suffering from indigestion.

Telegrams received here from Dublin and other towns in Ireland and the principal cities of England, all announcing the death of Mr. Parnell, has caused the greatest sensation among his admirers, and principally among those in the sudden manner in which he died.

PERSONAL

HERSON she has done with her efforts in Ireland cases, "she is in the (Mr. Parnell) said she, "and that was enough. Messages from a few friends offering condolence and sympathy were received by Mrs. Parnell this afternoon."

St. John Pope Hennessy died. LONDON, Oct. 7.—Coupled with the fact that he appears in the O'Shea divorce case in December, 1890, contested the North Kilkenny election, backed up by Mr. Parnell's opinions, and defeated the Parnell candidate, Vincent Smith, by 1,147 votes. This was a great and possibly the greatest feat of strength by the Parrellites and the McCarthys, and the defeat of Mr. Smith is due to a great deal of the future series of disasters which befall the Irish leader.

The Koster Divorce Case Dismissed. The case of the divorce between Mrs. Koster and her late husband, which was brought by her, was dismissed by Judge Adams on Friday last. The case was brought by her on the ground that she was unable to support her husband, and that he was unable to support her.

After a dog had been shot for rabies at Battle Creek it was found that the dog's teeth had been in the hair of a burdock bark in his hair. Appearances are deceitful sometimes, even in the case of a dog. A thief at Carsville stole a commutation ticket and his conscience smote him and he returned the property intact. The police at Reed City, Michigan, have exhibited there daily. We do not need any more here.

The editor of the Bay City Tribune was greatly surprised to see a work on "The Problem of Immortality." The next morning the Tribune published a notice of the work, and the editor of the Tribune was informed that the work was "immortality." The latter problem is much easier to prove than the former, and much more practical. "One word at a time," if not carried to an extreme, is not a bad motto.

HOW THE PEOPLE OF CHICAGO HONOR THE SILENT SOLDIER.

Grand Equitarian State Proceed as a Tribute to the Memory of the Silent Soldier. Impassioned and Inspiring Ceremonies in Lincoln Park.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—The superb equitarian state parade, in honor of the late General U. S. Grant, was unveiled today in the presence of an immense concourse of people. The ceremonies were at once impressive and inspiring. Business hours of the city had been almost wholly suspended. The banks, exchanges, government and municipal offices were closed and the employed classes generally were given a holiday.

The result was a grand and successful day for the heart of the city such as has been recalled by many of those who flocked toward Lincoln Park today, that a similar occasion ever had occurred just about twenty years ago. This is Oct. 7. Two days from now and Chicago will pass its twentieth anniversary of her great fire.

On the 9th of October, 1871, thousands of homeless, homeless and unprotected sought shelter in Lincoln Park, and for days afterwards tents were pitched for these people around the very spot which now marks the site of the Grant monument. In different parts of the city, the people were seen to move through the North Side of the city today.

The statue sets north and south upon an immense arch. It is now the most imposing monument in the city, and is the heart of the city such as has been recalled by many of those who flocked toward Lincoln Park today, that a similar occasion ever had occurred just about twenty years ago.

It is somewhat difficult to estimate the number of people who were present today, but the ceremonies began, probably a figure touching closely upon 250,000 would not be too high. The parade was met with well dressed, gaily uniformed and well equipped troops of police, colors, crests and nationalities.

There was an abundance of burning displays, and the parade was met with well dressed, gaily uniformed and well equipped troops of police, colors, crests and nationalities. The parade was met with well dressed, gaily uniformed and well equipped troops of police, colors, crests and nationalities.

DEATH NOTICES.

DENNIS, late of residence 1010...
WEDNESDAY, Wednesday, October 1, 1903...
Funeral at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon from the family residence.

CITY AND SUBURBS.

There will be an afternoon session of the Superior court today.
The Police Judge held his court of office as a special deputy sheriff yesterday.

AN ENGLISH TOURIST.

HE HEARS A STORY OF HOW HERMIT MOUNTAIN WAS NAMED.

An American Commercial Traveler Tells a Strange Yarn About the Lonely, Lonesome Miner of the Solikrins—The Hermit of Hermit Mountain.

The train had stopped near the heart of the Solikrins, under the shadow of a great bare crag, which the guide book said was the Hermit mountain.

"Follow the edge of the mountain from its front to the rear," he said. "The Fourth National will close this afternoon for the races, but will be open from 7 to 8:30 this morning."

The Painters and Decorators' union, 119, will have an open meeting in Red Bank street, at 8 o'clock, Tuesday night, that will be addressed by Prof. Carter.

It was reported in some of the papers that the mother's kindergarten class would meet at 2 o'clock this afternoon. This is a mistake, as the class will meet at 10 o'clock.

The Grand Rapids Savings bank comment forecloses proceedings in chancery yesterday against Henry Principals et al, to recover an $8000 parcel of land in the Dexter fraction in the village of Kent.

Justice Hutton yesterday filed with the county clerk his return in the examination of Charles Johnson and Peter Sweeney's Laska address, which was charged with keeping their saloons open on Sunday, June 14, and June 28.

Detectors Smith and Barr arrested Joe Sweeney last night on a charge of propagating. Sweeney when examined at police headquarters denied the charge, but was detained.

There was a meeting of the board of directors of the Michigan State Normal school this week Thursday and Friday, Oct. 8 and 9.

The Planet Jupiter.

A radiant star will adorn the sky for several months to come. It is Jupiter, the largest and grandest planet of the solar system.

It is now in opposition with the sun facing at sunset, reaching the meridian at midnight and setting at sunrise, being visible through the whole year.

Observers, therefore, may watch the progress of world making on the part of the member of the sun's family, as the telescope reveals the varying belts, the spots, the bright spots, and especially the famous red spot, showing that fierce storm of wind and heat in the lower cloud atmosphere that envelops the planet.

"No," said the tourist. "Possibly the most novel feature of two balloon voyagers here, Denver and the most recently commented upon, was the experience of the Eagle Eyrie and its crew."

"The great fact of the balloon race will soon be over, then we will settle down to business again, and in doing so we may make up our minds that we will buy some new furniture to make home pleasantly and comfortably during winter."

"The Welsh newspaper reports a remarkable case of a man named John Cardigan, who the Rev. William Herbert, late rector of the parish, retained 500 of his parishioners at tea in commemoration of the restoration of his eyesight in his ninety-fifth year."

"The hermit never speaks to anybody. Early in the winter, before there is danger of snow, a lot of provisions are laid on his table, but he never touches them."

"The period of amateur and professional astronomers in all quarters of the globe are directing their telescopes to the orb of Mars. It is hoped that a multiplicity of observations will be made."

"A cat in Chico Cal, pounced upon a sparrow and was about to make a meal of it, when a dozen other sparrows flew to the relief of its captured associate."

"The wealthiest income taxman in America is said to be the Sheppard system in New York City, which has a net income of $500,000. Since that time the trustees investing the interest alone, have expended $1,000,000 in buildings and land, and still have a capital of $500,000."

"The largest turning force ever manufactured was that used for the engine of the Physiological institute at Leipzig, and weighs twenty-seven kilograms, or a little over sixty pounds, and gives fourteen double oscillations a second."

Altogether will win today.

perhaps—and perhaps Nelson. A good day and track and will mark his records and astonish the world.

STRAIGHT would—at least the world of horse. And if so the prominence of this race will be a great attraction to Grand Rapids in avenues down which the fame of this hero, hitherto made but slow progress.

General Passenger Agent. P. S.—Yes, sir. The special train from Chicago will run via the West Michigan and New Buffalo connections.
