Any two or three elvery you fellows can find plenty of ways of ent taining or amwing their entertainers they will pool their brains and pock books. If they're not cleaver, the b thing they can do is to make themapito as soon as possible, for they can't et expect to be "solid" with the girls with out it. Don't imagine yourselves generous be cause you spend time thinking what lovely things you would do for the girl if you only had lots of money. Any fool can do that and yyt die as mean a and solf denil for any one to be gener ons unless he has a great deal more money than he knows what to do with and hobdy ever know a man ar fich a hat. Besides there are plonty of way of doing nice things for the girls with out spending much money, and you? Ind out some of them if only you'll be generous with your thine and wids.

If you can afford eigars, or even digareties, you can afford to do the proper thing for the girls. One common eigar a day costs as much as two good theater tickets a month. Fevers scarfpins mean more bonquest, and one bonquest will go further toward making you "solid" with a girl than a whole jeweler's case full of scarfpins. A suit of clothes a little less costly than the one you meant to buy will save you the price of a ride or two for the girl who will care more for one ride than to all the clothes you may try to show of in. A girl's own clothes are all she can pay attention to, unless the others are shabby or fit bally.
