DETROIT, April 9.—A little group of politicians were discussing the Minneapolis convention a few evenings ago...

The ex-senator is credited with having made a somewhat significant statement not long ago. A prediction was made...

The politician in the group who volunteered the assertion that it would not be an unprecedented turn if the convention settled upon Palmer as the mark for president, continued his remarks.

"Tom Palmer, whether he is here or here in Detroit know it or not," he said, "is nearer to President Harrison than any man who has been mentioned for the Republican nomination for president."

"Harrison doesn't get the nomination on," say the fifth or sixth ballot, and he feels convinced that he has gone to work on his strength...

DANCE HOUSE CASE.

The case brought by the city against David McConnell for running a dance hall in the city was tried yesterday afternoon and some interesting evidence as to the state of morality existing among certain females of the city was before the jury.

The evidence of Officer O. C. Smith went to show that the department had been notified that the place was being run in violation of the law. He was detailed to visit the place in citizen's clothes for the purpose of getting a case against McConnell for a violation of the liquor law, but was refused admission to the place by the door tender, who had been notified that he was a policeman.

McConnell told the stand and testified that he got up the dance at the request of his friends, some of whom were in shops. He named several of the couples who were in the place at the time he was arrested.

SIXTY-NINE WIVES.

And Yet He Is Not Punished Enough—He's Under Arrest.

New York, April 9.—James Taylor, who was held by a warrant on a charge of bigamy, and against whom there are sixty-nine charges of polygamy, has been discharged by Justice Traux of the supreme court.

His counsel contended that he could not be held in custody because a marriage occurred here and his second in Boston. Subsequently a writ of habeas corpus was issued for the production of Taylor in court and he was rearrested by officers from Boston. The writ was obtained on the ground of the insufficiency of the requisition papers.

POISONED BY MORPHINE. Robert Rivers Dies from an Overdose of the Deadly Drug—It Was Probably an Accident—Funeral Today.

Many friends and fellow workmen of Robert Rivers will be very much surprised and shocked to learn of his death. He was a young man about 29 years of age and employed at the brick factory.

He died early Friday morning and the certified death issued by Dr. J. Albright shows the cause to have been an overdose of morphine.

As near as could be learned from different persons he had been a sufferer for several days from a very painful ailment, causing him a great deal of annoyance.

STAINED WITH HER AUNT. An Old Soldier and a Young Girl Give the Bloom a Chase.

Mrs. Charles G. Bloom of 135 East Second street, had a young girl, Mrs. Isham, an old soldier entrusted with the care of her son, William, aged 5 years, from her home to the West Bridge street depot, had disappeared, taking the girl with him.

It is in the hands of the police. The girl also claims that Isham called at her aunt's yesterday morning and was taken to the depot by her aunt, who refused and returned to Mrs. Bloom's.

Asks for a Divorce. Mary Heintz and Charles Stein were married at Leighton, Allegan county, Sept. 3, 1888, and lived together as man and wife until several years ago, when the husband, it is charged in the divorce papers filed in the Circuit court, deserted his wife, going to Troy, N. Y., where he has since resided. The petition asks for an absolute decree of divorce, the husband's name to be stricken from the record and maintenance to be fixed.

THE LAW EXPLAINED.

Attorney Taylor Instructs the Supervisors Upon the Tax Law.

Supervisor Hogdon was the only member of the board of supervisors that did not appear in the council committee rooms last night. The meeting was called for the purpose of having the city attorney explain the workings of the new law. The questions submitted to him by the supervisors were of many kinds, some simple and some complex, but were answered as well as probably as they could be answered.

THE THEATERS. Chas. A. Gardner, the sweet singer, will appear at Powers' next Saturday night in his new comedy, entitled, "Captain Karl." The play is said to represent the true home life in Germany, with its joys, games and pastimes and fire-works.

THE HOOPER STATE KILLS ITS OWN CANDIDATE. A Republican Democratic Convention at the State Capitol, Michigan, has elected for Cleveland's nomination—Gray Slightlyly Nominated.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 9.—The Democratic county convention met at 10 this morning with 700 delegates present. John Klein was selected as chairman of the meeting and in his speech of acceptance he referred to Gray's candidacy, but said the Democrats were solid for Cleveland. Mr. Gray's name was mentioned there was not a cheer uttered, but when he referred to tariff reform and its exponent the delegates raised a yell for Cleveland that shook the house.

THEATER OF THE FUTURE AS SEEN BY MR. HOW.

A Philadelphia Manager Offers Some Original Suggestions to Theatrical Architects—No More Going Out Between the Acts.

Philosophical observers will have noticed that the man who has secured an aisle seat is usually the one against whom the holders of other seats are the same row most often sit, and with-out doubt, these good people have ven-uevied why such a state of affairs was permitted to exist. The injured one has shown anathemas upon the manager of the theater and roundly cursed the great that compelled the victim to sit in so small a space, being subjected to the annoyances of the late comer and the elbow-between-the-acts fad.

No man entering to the taste of the theater-going public is blind to the fact that the very first essential to success is the comfort of his patrons, and as the stiff benches of 1848, when the Walnut Street theater, Philadelphia, is believed to be the oldest play house in this country, was erected, have changed, so will the theaters of the future still further cater to the wants and personal tastes and the habits of its clientele, and change its habits of convenience so that every man shall have an end seat—or for married con-venience.

The theater of the future will do away with the tight, close-fitting seats, but stonily, avers that your purchase is "the very best in the house." Instead, you will go to the program at the very first, for one dollar, then your fifty-cent piece in the slot directly beneath the designated seat and out will come a program, wrapped in a blank, if some other fellow has been there before you.

But then you have the satisfaction of knowing that the machine would have no side issue to spring on you later. The management would seem concerned mainly by the patrons, or at least, until some other business opportunity device a mirror scheme that would give away the fact that no seat remained.

From now until the ushers and door-keepers be dispensed with. As you arrive at the door, by simply dropping your ticket in a slot, you will be instantly appar, seated in which you would be transferred with an easy motion to the allotted location as neatly and completely as the automatic type-setting machine would move alphabetical characters to their proper places in the page. The chief advantage would be in the ease of movement. No more would your best friend's feet and fingers be crushed by the man who comes every time the time of the play in passing to regain his seat breathe in your face an indescribable odor, not at all pleasant as the odor of a horse.

Four refreshment concluded, a slight pressure will cause you to ascend to your original position, inconveniencing no one, and at the end of the performance, the seats will be dropped to the floor beneath, the backs of the chairs forming the covers for the apertures. Seats, therefore, will be dropped to the floor for the exit of the auditors, and leaving you with a clear mind to dwell upon the pleasure afforded by the stage attraction. It cannot be stated, with exact truth that the Walnut Street theater will be provided with this convenient and comfortable method of procedure alterations are completed, and nevertheless, powerful minds are now busy endeavoring to encompass these desirable results, which would fulfill an ideal theater of the future.

Governor Winans has designated April 28 as Arbor day. The defeated Democratic candidate for mayor of Iowa demands a recount. Cleaning proposes to tax the saloons out of existence by making the license $5,000.

Rev. C. D. Berry of the Park Baptist church of Lansing will remove to Litchfield, eight vessels having arrived there yesterday. Peter Brown, a farmer living near Charlotte, was killed Friday morning by a falling tree.

A man named Wilson fell from the roof of his house at Durand Thursday and is seriously injured. The house committee has favorably reported relative to Ann Arbor's $50,000 public building.

The projected mining academy at Marquette will be a go. Half of the proposed $40,000 has been raised. George Beninger of Fenoville has been elected to the Michigan legislature.

John Euler's residence, three miles north of Durand, was destroyed by a gas, defective tube. Loss, $1,000; insurance, $1,000. William Kerr, fisherman of Cass Village, was carried away with drifting logs and a week has elapsed without tidings from him.

The state reform school numbers among its inmates Clark Boone, a direct descendant of Daniel Boone, of the famous Boone family. The farmers of Eaton county propose to have a market day each week at Eaton. Their plan has proved a success at Salsburg.

To replace the clock burned at Marquette has been a new clock, 120 feet long on one side, 74 on the other and 100 feet wide. The late election of the people of Williamson county, 37 decided to construct a single-span bridge at Putnamville. More than sixty Oswego school children are crowded out and the rooms, even if they are, are overflowing with young people crowded every where.

Fire broke out in Allen & Co.'s cooper shop at Jonesville on Friday, but was discovered before it became unmanageable and the loss was small. The 314 members of the Pottawatomie tribe met at their annual convention. Their claim has been allowed, and news to that effect has been sent to Chief Simon Pak.

Ed Smith, who escaped from the Newaygo jail a month ago where he has been awaiting trial for an adult, was captured Friday afternoon at Montpelier, Mich. He was taken to the Michigan Southern train near Somerset, Ky. The body of a Dutchman was found in an open boat. It was feared they were drowned.

The venerable Susan E. Anthony will visit Michigan to deliver an address during the convention of the Michigan Woman's Suffrage Association at Battle Creek May 4 and 5. Albert H. Watson, an invalid, and a remarkably young man, died at Marquette, Mich., died suddenly on a Cincinnati Southern train near Somerset, Ky. The body of a Dutchman was found in an open boat. It was feared they were drowned.

A week ago Truman Barber of Mecumonia was knocked down and a remarkably young man, died at Marquette, Mich., died suddenly on a Cincinnati Southern train near Somerset, Ky. The body of a Dutchman was found in an open boat. It was feared they were drowned.

The Newaygo county Republican convention, held at Newaygo Friday, was a success. The delegates are George B. Johnson, John Cole, George W. Crandall, Captain Dean, Wesley Pearson.

Three Brevard porters: The People's party of this county is to be congratulated for its success on Monday in the first ticket entrance in the race, for a national political party not yet two years old. The People's party carried Colon, Leodias and Park, being second, near the front, in the race for the townships of Florence, Mendon, Flowering and Ewing rivers.

A GRAND RAPIDS INSTITUTION TO CURE DRUNKENNESS.

Private in Character but Public in Interest and Beneficial to Kind—Fissant and Commotions.

The prevailing spirit of enterprise which has been manifested in all branches of industry in Grand Rapids during the past ten years or more has been complemented by visitors far and wide.

Today Grand Rapids has a fine and better institution. Some philosophers have remarked that the greatest indication of prosperity is success. A wise aphorism, most truly, and one that carries conviction on its face.

It was a discovery which brings to the mind of modern times have yielded more widespread and beneficial results to society than this discovery—chloride of gold," as applied to drunkenness and the morphine habit.

ESTABLISHED REPUTATION

Every week furnishes something new and delightful to talk about, something that the season kaleidoscope brings to sunlight from the great work rooms of the world.

Joyous Eastertide,

With its beautiful lilies—symbols of purity and new life—will greet us soon. Every one who will celebrate the season with a new bonnet and gown, parasol, etc. And this brings us to the subject of

New Parasols.

The myriads of lovely parasols shown by us are triumphs, come to crown the labor of long months, enabling us to place before the fair critics of Grand Rapids the most attractive display that will be seen this year.

Our Exhibit

Gathers in all the parasol varieties known to fashion. The carriage, coaching, club, mourning, and a large variety of stylish and handy trimmings. The ruffles and flouncing effects predominate. Some are made in Taffeta and changeable silks to match all silk dress goods.

THE CARRIAGE PARASOL

Is found in colors, also in black satin and silk. You will say they are well. Others are in white brocade, trimmed with chiffon lace with single and double ruffles. Figured India silk coverings will be worn with all summer costumes; our line is exquisite. Black and colored satins, with deep, heavy drounces, are also lovely to go with costumes. During the coming week extraordinary inducements will be offered to all who purchase parasols.

KID GLOVE NEWS.

Our fondness or penchant for nice gloves, and many of them are shown by the beautiful assortment gathered from the celebrated makers only. Ladies tell us that in no store do they see such desirable shadings and such endless quantities.

THE PREDOMINATING COLORS

Worn in Paris and London are Mimosas and Maïs, primrose shades; Pearl, Lavender, Moles and White. The Gant du Stuck is undoubtedly the most fashionable gown worn in Paris this season. Biarritz and Glace gloves are also popular; of these we show all fashionable shades.

MONDAY MORNING.

The assortment comprises White, with black stitching and all the popular shades. We have the Long Suedes, 12 to 26 button, in white, black, operas, tans, creams, etc.

FOR EVENING WEAR

Our importation of Chamois Gloves in 4 Button and Mousquetaire will be placed on sale.

OUR CLOAK DEPARTMENT

IS A PERFECT FORM OF SUCCESS.

This does not apply to the Williams street viaduct nor to the tower system of street lighting, but to the question whether the Montague treatment fully satisfies the claims of the public. Note what a Grand Rapids lead has been given. Mrs. Susan M. Patterson of 70 South Division street, the widow of a once prominent lawyer of this city, and who is well known and highly respected by the laity, makes the following statement: "I was driven by force of necessity to consult some specialist in regard to a bad catarrh of my head that had been troubling me for twenty-five years. I called at the office of the Montague treatment of this city, and will say right here that I have never regretted for a moment that I did so. Not only found them skilled in their specialty, but perfect gentlemen, treating all their patients with the same consideration. I don't think I need enumerate any of my ailments, but all the bad ones, and good ones too, if you are any. I had a miserable hacking cough that kept me awake nights and was almost intolerable; also a neuralgia of my forehead, eyes and face which gave me constant pain and greatly affected my eyesight; and a constant dropping of a foul and offensive mucus in my eyes, and the itching and burning of the eyes. After three weeks ago these symptoms have nearly all disappeared and I can go to bed at night and sleep till morning and arise feeling refreshed and rested, which is an important item for an old lady of 75 years."

The Montague Treatment. An permanently located at Rooms 16, 18 and 19, HOUSE BLOCK, CATHARIN AND KINDRED DISEASES. Catarrh, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia and all diseases of the Nose, Throat and Lungs successfully treated by the Montague method, and without pain. CANCELED (With-out the Knife!) OBSCURE CURES: 9 to 11-10 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m. Patients at a distance successfully treated by the Montague method. The Montague Treatment, Rooms 15 to 17, Powers' Opera House Block (aka the Electric Floor), GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.

WOMAN'S WORLD.

MISS WILLARD AS PRESIDING OFFICER AT THE SUNSET CLUB.

About Washing Blankets—Sympathy for Mrs. Osborne—From Wash to Throtto.

Some of the folks who went to the Sunset club dinner a week ago wondered why Miss Frances Willard did not come in till after the dinner had been served.

Chicago Post: "The first gun" that was to have been fired in Rhode Island was spiked. Both parties made extraordinary efforts to "carry" the little riotous meeting by the spiking of the gun.

Rhode Island: "It is hard to understand this vehemence over so small a matter. The mischievous called Blaine stand has really been a part of the United States for as long as regards the spirit of its laws and institutions. It was the last and the chiefest of the colonies to secede from the union and its entry was never more than half-hearted."

Chicago Herald: "Oh, not a pint," said Mr. Erant in dismay. "Not a pint, I can assure you. The members get a little drunk, and Apollinaris or Sauterne, or some other sparkling water, you know."

A Woman Hotel Cashier: The Holland House has made an innovation. It has surprised recently to see a young woman, scarcely more than a girl, behind the cashier's desk.

There is one other hotel in the country that employs a woman cashier. This is the Palmor House, of Chicago.

Miss Elett McEvoy is the name of the young woman who fills the place here since the German government have laid the grand bureau doors of the Stramburg cathedral reproduced for the woman's building of the exposition, because these doors were designed and wrought by a woman, Sabina Steinhock, who was the sister, assistant and adviser of the architect.

Little Queen's Family of Dolls: The young Wilhelmine of Holland that in addition to the care of a kingdom, the responsibility of managing a family of thirty-nine dolls. She sews, washes for and dresses her numerous family and is said to be already trained in such Dutch housewife qualities as making good bread and pastry.

White Gloves to Be Worn: The white chambray gloves which were fashionable last year are to be worn more than ever, with white coriandry and the frock. All gloves are to be lightly embroidered. The heavy black is no longer good form.

Are You Psychic? Are you psychic? When your friends approach can you feel them around the corner? In conversation can you anticipate what they will say before they say it?

A New Table Drink: Coffee-tea, a beverage made from the leaves of the coffee shrub, is a new candidate for popular favor, and would seem to have some advantages over the old coffee and tea.

A Society for Travel: The Rest-Tour association is the suggestive title of a society recently founded in Boston. The purpose of the society is to assist in the preparation of the traveler abroad with comfort and economy.

Sharks as Game Fish: As game fish, sharks do not, I think, stand high, the most common of them, the dusky shark, when hooked, circles round on the surface and usually bites the lines and catches itself.

A Terrible Discovery. At the house of the summer palace, during the Chinese war, an enterprising officer secured a good many little medals of the "Son of the Moon and the First Cousin of the Stars," but what always filled him with regret was the information he afterward received from a British official in London, that the gods many things away, but you left the lions upon the entrance gates, which meant "the very best of them, I didn't think so much of them as you do," replied the artistically polite "rejoice in your own things," and it was no time to speculate on the "rejoice in your own things."

Genesis of the Horsehoe. It is known that the hoofs of horses were produced by the feet of leather, but a very early period in the history of man and Aristotle, both of whom make mention of the horsehoe, and that the horsehoe was sometimes studded with metal nails, but more usually worn without any studs, and that the horsehoe was a commodity making it possible for the owner of the steed to "reboot" him at any time.—St. Louis Republic.

The Good Templar band will conduct the gospel temperance meeting in the Second Street M. E. church this evening. M. A. Lee will sing and Rev. John Helden of Niagara Falls, Ont., will deliver the address. Subject, "The Two Roads, or, Where Are Our Boys?"

The gospel temperance meeting this afternoon in Good Templar's hall will be addressed by Mrs. A. S. Bonjamm, Fifth district president of the W. C. T. U.

There will also be a reading by Myrtle Koon-Cherryman, recitation by Miss Hittsman, and the music will be furnished by the Ladies' quartette and the Organ quartette.

Invitations have been sent out to the wedding of Miss Lora Best, daughter of Dr. L. E. Best, and Dr. White of Salt Lake City. The ceremony will be performed at St. Mark's church Tuesday evening, April 12, at 7 o'clock, after which a reception will be given to the immediate friends at the residence on North Tonia street, Mr. and Mrs. White will live in Salt Lake City.

Richard Holloway, John Elliott and George Murphy were discharged from the Tonia prison yesterday. They had served a term of 180 days for passing counterfeit money for grand larceny. They were given tickets for Niles, from which place they were sent to their homes.

How to Care for a Trotter.

When the horse comes in from his work rub him all over from his ears to his tail and down to his knees with wash as near the temperature of his body as possible. To make this wash take one part alcohol, two parts pure white hazel and three or four times as much soft water as the combined quantity of alcohol and witch hazel. Every muscle should be rubbed thoroughly. Throw a medium weight blanket over the horse now, and let him stand until you have put the bandages on.

Use the same wash for the legs as for the body, but have it cold. After putting the wash on the legs, rub them well with the palm of the hand, always rubbing down, never up. Put the bandages on immediately after the rubbing. Rub all his hoofs perfectly dry with clean, dry rags. Care should be taken in this as cracked hoofs are very stubborn and often lay a horse up for the season.

Throw the blanket back from the head and scrape out all wash that remains, most of it will have entered the pores of the body; cover up his shoulders and scrape the rest of the body with a clean, dry rag and rub him all over lightly, always rubbing with the hair as much as possible; now put a light hood on him and an extra blanket over his loins, and after looking at his hoofs again walk him out for about five minutes, then bring him in, and should he have broken out any while walking scrape him again lightly, after which give him a light rub with the rags for five or six minutes, when he should again be walked for about ten minutes, and again take a light rub slightly. Do not put on tighter blankets, but continue to reduce the weight as the heat leaves the body.—Rider and Driver.

A Care for Laziness.

A traveler in the course of a morning's work, when he comes upon a group gathered around a well, into which a strongly built man just been let down. A pipe, whose mouth was at the top of the well, had been opened, and a stream of water from it was flowing into the well and gradually filling it. The man had his hands on the rim of the well, and did not want to be drowned, to keep the water out by means of a pump which was at the bottom of the well.

The traveler, pitying the man, asked for an explanation of what seemed to be a cruel, heartless joke.

"I replied," said the old man standing near, "that fellow is, as you see, healthy and strong. I have myself offered him work twenty times, but he always declines to let the water out of him, and will make any excuse to beg his bread from door to door, though he might easily earn it if he chose."

"We are now trying to make him realize that he must work. If he uses the strength that is in his arms he will be saved; if he lets his hands hang he will be drowned. But look!" continued the old Dutchman as he went to the edge of the well and turned out that he has muscles already; in an hour we shall let him out with better resolutions for the future.

The traveler watched until the man was liberated from his watery prison, and felt sure that at least a temporary cure had been effected.—Youth's Companion.

One Man's Opinion.

The other day a politician of national prominence sat in "the amen corner," as it is called, of the Fifth Avenue hotel, where Republican big game go to batteries. Across the corridor sat a keen eyed, swarthy life insurance agent, dressed in a newspaper man's style, who had his headquarters at the up town hotels entered and notified familiarly to both politician and life insurance agent. They were both under obligations to him.

In the most natural way in the world, from talking to both at almost the same time, he let his hands hang like a dead yard he strolled on. Now this particular life insurance agent had been watching for months for an opportunity of making the acquaintance of this particular politician. He was not slow to improve the opportunity, now that he had it, and he wrote a life policy of $25,000 as the result. The next day the journal that who so innocently introduced the hunter and his prey received by mail a check for $25,000. Now this shows a great many things—among others, the enormous profits life insurance agents must make when they can give such commissions.—John A. Cockerill in New York Recorder.

When Did the "Glass Age" Begin?

So far as research has been able to determine, glass was in use 2,000 years before the birth of Christ, and was even then not in its infancy by any manner of means. In the Sclade collection at the British museum there is the head of a lion molded in glass, bearing the name of an Egyptian king of the eleventh dynasty. This is the oldest specimen of glass bearing any name known to us now known to exist. The invention now known as "bleeding," the mode of varnishing pottery with a thin film of glass, is believed to date back to the first Egyptian dynasty. Proof of this is found in the pottery beads, glass glazed, found in the tombs of the age above referred to.—St. Louis Republic.

Magic That Is Seldom Seen.

The raising of an umbrella in the theater is a bad omen for the business. Where is the man of fearless heart who will sing the music of "Machibet" or "Meg Merrilies" other than at the rehearsal or production of those plays? He attempts a very bold and "put down" in great shape and very hard by the other members of the company. Of all bad omens the singing of that music is among the worst.—Chicago Herald.

STAR CLOTHING HOUSE.

The First Protestant in Japan. The first Protestant Christian in Japan was one Murata, a military retainer of the Lord of Saga, in the southern island of Kyushu. In 1590 he went to Nagasaki, by order of his chief, and one evening, as he was crossing the harbor in a boat, he picked up a book that was floating about in the water. The writing ran from side to side, "like the crawling of crabs," and upon sending it to the Dutch then settled at Nagasaki, he learned that it was the Christian Bible, then a proscribed book. Curiosity spurred him on, and he had one of his assistants learn the language of the book and translate it for him, sentence by sentence.

His study was continued in secret, with a few friends, after his return home. When a difficult passage was found, a messenger was sent to Dr. Verbeke, a well known missionary then in Nagasaki, for his interpretation. Murata was afterward baptized, and his name now stands first on the roll of Protestant Christians in Japan.—London Times.

Women Taking the Places of Men.

In Holland men can no longer be trusted to work the switches on the railways, and women now fill their places. This is a slap in the face indeed to the male sex, and a great triumph to the advocates of female labor. But we have yet to see how the thing works. The men say that there will now be looking glances in the switch boxes, and that the women will never leave them till they have smoothed their last hair and settled the bow of their last ribbon, and that in the meantime there will be collisions that when left to themselves they never have been in time for the train as passengers, and will not be more punctual as housewives; and, finally, that if they hear their lover's whistle anywhere in the neighborhood they will pay very little attention to that of the locomotive. If these objections are not valid, consider the men, "we are not Dutchmen."—London Queen.

An Old Fashioned Phrase.

There is an old fashioned phrase of hospitality which consists of only two words, and I find it a parallel to the Greek salutation, and like it, a complete "set by." Says the correspondent of a New England farmer to his guest beneath his roof. Now compare this compact and simple phrase with the more modern polite question, "Will you partake of refreshments?" as the empty and void as a Chinese invitation, and throws the choice of acceptance on the guest. One is the living soul of speech, the other a mere dead formality.—Detroit Free Press.

The Death of Christ.

In a book entitled, "The Physical Causes of Christ's Death," the writer states that Christ died from a broken heart, so that, when the soldier pierced his side, and the water flowed out, which would have been an impossibility if no rupture had taken place.

The Wisdom of It.

Cora—Don't you think that law preventing one from marrying his deceased wife's sister is a very bold and "put down" in the church, I've always considered it a wise one, because there's seldom more than one pretty girl in a family.—New York Epoch.
