

MAYOR STUART'S BOW

FIRST MEETING OF THE NEW CITY COUNCIL.

The Mayor's Inaugural Address—The Council members Announced—The Appointments—Meet With Diverse Faces—Failure to Effect a Election of President.

The council chamber last night was the scene of much excitement as the lobby was filled with all classes and kinds of men awaiting anxiously for words that would shape their careers.

The mayor and clerk's desks were loaded with cut flowers and hot flowers and each alderman and municipal reporter had a boutonniere in the lapel of his coat.

A great many ladies were present and watched the proceedings with much interest.

At 10:15 Mayor Stuart appeared and was the recipient of much applause, which he acknowledged with the same genial smile which is characteristic of him. He proceeded to the business at hand without any formalities and the first sentence he uttered was "I am glad to see the council well pleased to order."

After the minutes of the last meeting were duly approved, Alderman Connor moved that a committee of three be appointed to manage and conduct the affairs of this large and progressive city.

It cannot be denied that the past year has been one of great progress and activity. It has been a year of hard work done and the money raised and expended has been well accounted for.

Through various causes we are confronted with what is practically a barren treasury, notwithstanding apparent abundance of money.

We had in the treasury of this fund from the former year $29,000 and at the end of the year we had only $7,000.

city has for many years been conducted. The council chamber last night was the scene of much excitement as the lobby was filled with all classes and kinds of men awaiting anxiously for words that would shape their careers.

Again, this is not a case of the clerk providing that at each session of the council, the clerk shall call on the mayor and demand that he sign a check on the city treasury.

The park funds, the police headquarters building fund and Madison avenue and Sixth ward engine house funds, mentioned above as overdrawn, are prohibited from transferring money from the regular funds to them.

As a further means of relief, I recommend that the committee on ways and means make a general audit of the salaries and expenses of all the officers and employees of the city.

succeed Dr. C. M. Kelly. Alderman Connor and Mills were chosen as tellers and the vote decided his position by a majority of 13 to 11.

The next appointment was that of Samuel White as cemetery commissioner. The council allowed the clerk to call on the mayor and demand that he sign a check on the city treasury.

TUESDAY, MAY 9, 1911.

THE PAINTERS AND DECORATORS.

It is hard to understand why a workman in any line of employment should object to joining a union of his fellow craftsmen. It is a common thing that labor has secured all the advances. Its greatest victory is yet to come in the shape of the eight-hour day, and it certainly is a little exasperating that a few men should stand back and refuse to help their aggressive fellows have secured by the expenditure of their own money and time.

In the case of the painters and decorators' union the cause of the trouble is more with workmen who for some inscrutable reason will not join the union than it is with the bosses. The union men are not to be blamed for refusing to work with men who are unwilling to belong to unions or who, if fit, refuse to join them because of selfishness or crankiness. On the other hand, it is hard for the employer to realize that it is his duty to force his workmen into unions because the unions are organized for their own advantage and is on the offensive and defensive against the oppressions and wrongs of greedy capital.

Reasonable and just employers, however, should see that union laborers are the best and the most reliable. They should see the unreasonableness of the conduct of their workmen refusing to join unions and making themselves a part of an intelligent and powerful mass that must become a better and more reliable ally for capital than a wild mob that may turn at any time from its own destruction to destroy in fury and vindictness the best hopes of capital and of the nation.

The union painters and decorators are making a manly and dignified protest against a wrong, but not a wrong that can be blamed on the employers. The wrong comes from foot of stairs to the rank of labor itself. It seems a pity that a cause so contemptible should require action so severe.

CONGRESS ADJOURNMENT.

The prospects are good that this session of congress will be ready to adjourn early in July. This is a good thing upon which the nation is to be congratulated and for which congress is to be thanked. This early adjournment is due to the entire exhaustion of the tariff question. It is creditable to the good sense of congress that it has not devoted three or four months to the discussion of the tariff. That subject has been used up. There is not a new argument possible or an important new fact that can be presented.

It is understood that there will be a reform of the tariff when the Democrats get the government in their hands, making it less protective, where protection is not necessary for the public interest and enlarging the free trade where it will so will relieve the burdens of the people and have a tendency to help labor.

It is understood that if the Republicans are retained in power protection as embodied in the McKinley bill will be continued. With this sort of an understanding fairly expressed in the platforms of all the parties there is no need of any extended discussion of the tariff. The masses of voters understand it and will be influenced by it more or less. Other questions should receive greater attention and be decisive of the battle. It is well that congressmen are going to be relieved from their duties this early in Washington that they can come home and get the opinions prevailing in the minds of their constituents.

The newspaper publishers of this city employ none but union printers. The employers of painters and decorators can be assured that a non-union printer would not be tolerated at home in any printing office in the city. It seems to be considered a necessity to the success of unions that non-union labor shall be refused employment. An open shop is the name as a non-union shop. The reason for this is plain.

This whole civilized world will applaud the release of Mrs. Osborne from jail. Her delicate condition demanded the action with all the force of refined humanity. It will be conceded by every one that she has suffered enough. She has explained her crime. The conduct of her husband, Captain Osborne, has been noble under circumstances the most trying that a husband could be subjected to.

Dox M. Dickerson is a peace maker. Blessed is the peace maker.

THE RED FLAG.

The arrest of workmen in the procession in Chicago who were seen carrying the red flag, and the seizure of the flags they bore, were entirely justifiable. The applause of people of all classes on the sidewalks who saw the arrests made proved that the attitude favor the suppression of anarchy.

The theories of anarchy can be discussed and promulgated in the United States under the protection of the constitution as long as it is not treason to the nation, but it becomes treason and murder there is no tolerance for it. The red flag aspires to rise above and supersede the stars and stripes, it is therefore treason to carry it, besides it has to do with the promulgation of lies and is hateful to law-abiding people.

The wrongs of the people in free America demand no blood shed, no treason or banners or ground tramps. Citizenship intelligence and the ballot will answer every purpose of struggling labor in this free country under the constitution and the flag of the Union.

Mr. Dewey, the much experienced president of the New York Central railroad, gives the newspapers a two-column column on the ground tramps. He denounces at length deadheads, but mind you, your Uncle Chaucey could not even venture to intimate that an editor is a deadhead. He roasts the preachers, the politicians, the school teachers, the public officials and a dozen other classes of railroad deadheads, but the editors escape mention. Mr. Dewey is one of those slick yankees who have that yankee presence that tells which side of the bread is buttered.

There may be some excuse for the editor of the newspaper of the Empire in Germany, the fanatics in Ireland and the hillbillies in Kussia, but that kind of politics in America should be jumped upon with both feet by the American police. It is without excuse and it is staid in the eyes of the American people. The perpetration of dynamite outrages in Paris, where is enthroned republican France, also seems as inexcusable and indefensible as in the United States. Respect for freedom of speech but down with the dynamite.

The president withholds the correspondence on the subject of a monetary conference on the ground tramps, public officials and a dozen other classes of railroad deadheads, but the editors escape mention. Mr. Dewey is one of those slick yankees who have that yankee presence that tells which side of the bread is buttered.

The eight-hour labor day is inevitable. It is sure to come and that very soon. The more gracefully it is conceded the better it will be all round.

THE MAY TERM.

A large calendar in the Circuit Court—First call. The Circuit court opened yesterday afternoon at 10 o'clock. Judge Webb took the criminal and civil jury cases, and Judge Adair the non-jury cases. Resolutions on the death of John H. McGill were presented and ordered spread upon the record of the court. In the matter of the death of George Gray, Messrs. Birney Hoyt, Henry E. Thompson and James Blair were appointed a committee to draft suitable resolutions.

In the divorce case of Carrie E. Webb vs. Athelms M. Webb the defendant was ordered to pay $3 per week for the support of his wife and a $35 solicitor's fee within sixty days. In the assumpsit case of Stoffel v. Carter vs. Isaac R. Williams the plaintiff was ordered to pay the defendant for costs. The motion for security for costs in the case of Alexander Gravit vs. The Township of Walker was denied. In the assumpsit case of Albert Baxter against William W. McNeil and William L. Conley the court made an order denying the motion to write the order setting aside service of writ upon defendant Conley.

The people's case against Hugh Miller for rape was tabled upon a motion of the prosecuting attorney. The people's case against the publisher of the conspiracy was placed at the foot of the civil jury calendar. A motion to quash the information for non-payment in the case of the people vs. Frank Berry was argued and will be submitted today.

The criminal call today is at 8 a. m. In the Bostonian case against the G. & R. Railway company proceedings of this property was entered. In the case of Edgar C. Pearce vs. the Owashtons Boat club an order for the same order was made in the case brought against the club by Sidney Stevens vs. A. Security for costs was denied. In the case of Orrin Viron vs. Myron Stiles in the case of Isaac D. Hixon vs. James B. Kirtland and J. K. Groves an order dismissing the bill from court by stipulation. Grant H. Weaver and Charles Kitchen were admitted to citizenship by Judge Adair.

In the case of Francis P. Cary against David D. Vries et al, an order was made for the plaintiff to pay the costs of accounting and directing of distribution. Judge Adair ordered a final decree in the case of E. R. Hamand against Aaron Clark et al dismissing the bill from court.

Awed a Whole Troop.

Through Passenger Conductor Barke, of the Pittsburgh and Western, tonight some very fresh theatrical people's lesson not long ago. They were en route from Allegheny to New Castle, and they were in the smoking car and acted no less as if they owned it, but the entire row and a good slice of the earth. They looted up several seats and proceeded to indulge in a boisterous game of draw poker. Assistant Superintendent Williams, chanced to be on the train, and in passing through the car noticed their conduct and remonstrated. They paid little attention to him except to abuse him, and applied a vile name to him after he had passed out. Somebody reported this to Conductor Barke, who is a man over 220 and whose muscles are hard as iron.

He went back to where the barn stokers were holding high revelry, and walking up to the crowd, broke out: "You fellows called Superintendent Williams a dirty name when he was not on the train. Now I am here and I want you to understand you can't call me that and that I won't permit such conduct on this train. I am running it, and I intend to be here and I will allow no interference from such a gang as you. I can whip the whole crowd of you any day or night. If you don't believe I will sidetrack the train and any one of you can step off and I will show you. Why, there isn't a man among you, I want you to understand that if you get to be stopped, and you will have to behave as gentlemen."

One of the barn stokers dared lift a hand against the sturdy conductor as he towered above them and administered the tongue lashing, and from that on they were quiet and not another word was turned until they arrived at New Castle Junction—Pittsburg Post.

ANN ELIZA YOUNG HAS TROUBLE WITH HER HUSBAND
The Third Marital Venture of Mrs. Eliza Young, the celebrated reformer, is daily a source of the greatest interest to her friends.

MANIFEST, Mich., May 3.—Ann Eliza, the nineteenth wife of the late Brigham Young, is unhappy in her present family situation. She is the wife of a dissipated and wealthy lumberman and prominent citizen of Marquette and a member of the last legislature.

Last week he advertised in the local papers warning the merchants not to do anything as responsible for any debts of his wife's contracting. A few days later in the week he transferred his property to George M. Burr, cashier of the Marquette National bank, and left town leaving behind a heavy return.

On Monday a sweet-faced little woman, animated and earnest in manner and interesting in conversation. For ten years or more she was one of the strongest characters in the lecture field of the West. She was a native of the country, telling of the evils and woes of Mormonism, as she knew them from personal experience.

She was once taken to Utah by her parents and fourteen years later returned to her native land. She was married to a man who had two children who are still living. After his death the great Mormon prophet saw the widow, was captivated by her charms and forthwith asked her to live with him.

She was twice married. Her second husband was a man who had been a member of the Mormon faith and especially as to the polygamous institution. These doubts gradually resolved themselves into certainties.

Eighteen-year-old Louis Reynolds of Vandalla could neither read nor write, but he managed to get a divorce from his wife by another party, which he had to do for a horse.

James Graham of Howell is a man who has been arrested for adultery, but afterwards repented and had her released, now she is in jail for the same crime.

The citizens of Lansing will have to during the next few days. An armistice has been declared between the strikers and the employers.
