

THE WRECKED STEAMER

Particulars of the Late Superior Accident.

The Vessel Broken in Two by the Pierce Pounding of the Waves.

SACRED SEA, Mich., Sept. 2.—With the loss of the inland wrecked Western Reserve—a loss to fresh water marine something like what the wreck of the City of Paris, the City of New York or the Teutonic would be to salt shipping—27 souls went to eternity. It is a disaster which calls on the wreck of the Alps, the wreck of the shore and other water tragedies in which whole families were wiped out.

Harry Stewart of Algona, the only survivor, was picked up by the fishing tug C. M. B. A. Captain Coates, and brought to this port at 7 o'clock last night. He furnishes the only details that will ever be known of the wreck.

It was the family party of six on board the faster steamer, including the millionaire owner of the boat, Capt. Peter G. Munch of Cleveland, his wife, his two youngest children and other relatives. The morning and evening they passed through the canal's locks Tuesday night. The family party are included, with 21 of the vessel's officers and crew among the victims of the wreck.

A heavy gale from the northwest was blowing when the steamer emerged from St. Mary's river and Whitefish bay. Confident in the seaworthy qualities of his new craft, Owner Minch had no apprehension about continuing the course through the heavy sea of the big lake. Passing beyond the shelter of Point St Ignace the steamer increased in violence with every hour. It was noticed that the ship was pitching in a manner that, as far as began to excite the apprehensions of the passengers, it was beyond Whitefish and 9 o'clock Tuesday night when the end came. The first warning was a break in the mainmast heard above the storm's roar, of the metal plates composing the ship's sides and the mainmast were torn away, supposed to be as staunch as any on fresh water, literally broke in two and the vessel's deck was broken up.

Survivor Henry Stewart was a wheelman who succeeded in getting out of the widening breach that appeared amidship in the vessel and reached one of the life boats beyond the mainmast that the steamer carried two boats, a metal life boat and a wooden yawl. The latter was the only one that had already placed themselves. They had never been drilled in launching, and the difficulty was experienced in getting away from the wreck. The wooden yawl, which seems to have been partially saved by the crew, was towed about a mile in a short distance. Captain Meyer's son and the steward were rescued, but all the rest perished.

The wooden yawl, heavily loaded with the crew, shipped great volleys of water from time to time, and heavy seas. Getting into the breakers among the bars formed outside of the yawl, the vessel was tossed down. Stewart can tell little of what happened after the yawl was launched. He heard the screams of the women and the shouts of the men in the cold water nearly two hours, he reached the shore in an almost utterly exhausted condition. His rescue was successful in making his way to life saving station No. 10, some 10 miles east of the yawl.

One of the yawls was found on the Michigan coast, and the remains of a dark-skinned woman were found. A third yawl was recovered by the Western Reserve. The Western Reserve was bound for two harbors for a cargo of iron ore, and was proceeding up light.

ACTED AS SPIES

How Pinkerton Men Obtained Knowledge of Strikers' Plans.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 2.—John Wipfel and John Nelson were arrested in Homestead Wednesday afternoon brought to this city by the Duquesne company with riot. Together with T. F. Gibson, previously held on the same charge, they were given a hearing before Alderman McMasters. L. H. Tyler and Joseph Kulp, Pinkerton agents, were placed on the witness stand and caused consternation to the defense by producing working cards, issued to them by the Duquesne Lodge of the Amalgamated Association, into which they had been initiated a short time before the strike. The cards gave them entrance to all gatherings of the workmen.

The Pinkertons testified that, a short time before the strike at Duquesne, they had attended a meeting at which a resolution was adopted by which the defendants was presented. It provided that the men organize themselves in squads, guard the mills, so that no one should be allowed to enter, and to keep non-union men out. Wipfel and Nelson were both sworn in, but Wipfel was discharged the necessary bail.

SULLIVAN IS GLOOM.

His Trip to the Scene of His Crime Combated by the Elements.

ELKHART, Pa., Sept. 2.—The John C. Sullivan train, on its way to New Orleans, passed here at 9:30 a. m. today. Phil Casey, who is on the train, told a United Press reporter that Sullivan had passed through the heavy sea of the big lake. Buffalo was reached, about 6 o'clock.

At Buffalo a large crowd gathered to greet the great traveler. Among the throng was a remarkably pretty woman, stylishly dressed, who had been waiting for the heavy sea of the big lake.

She was, however, compelled to go away without having her desire satisfied, as the train was to leave at 7 o'clock.

When Sullivan got up this morning he had a hearty breakfast of chops, four fried eggs, a slice of ham, a slice of cold chicken and two cups of tea made with water that his hands had been washed in.

He had a very good breakfast, but he did not have to change when he reaches the South. The big fellow ate with a relish, but he was not in good humor. He spoke scarcely a word during the morning.

At 10 o'clock he stopped at Coeyman's Junction several sporting men from Albany and New York, looking for a fight, were attached to the station and boarded the train.

TWELVE PEOPLE BITTEN BY MAD DOGS

A Victim of Terror Insulted at Anderson, Ind.—One Death Has Occurred.

ANDERSON, Ind., Sept. 2.—An epidemic of hydrophobia threatens this city. The dogs are more numerous than ever, and the past few days over a dozen persons have been bitten by animals supposed or known to be rabid.

The excitement is something terrible and the people are practically in a state of panic.

The city has already been crowded and the terror-stricken people are expecting many more.

It is impossible to get a correct list of those in danger from wounds already received, but it is believed that a list of the more authentic can be obtained in the exact condition of the populace.

The city authorities have taken prompt measures to prevent any more cases of the kind.

Fortified issued peremptory orders to the chief of police to kill every dog found within the limits of the city.

The people bitten are carefully isolated and are being closely watched in order to prevent the entrance of hydrophobia may be checked.

NEW YORK GETTING OVER THE SCORE.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon Dr. Jenkins said that the examination of all the ships in the harbor and lying off quarantine failed to reveal the presence of any cholera or the symptoms of it.

The prompt action of the national government at work, and to prevent the spread of cholera has done much to reassure the people of New York, and no new cases have been reported from the plague island in the lower bay, where two women are suffering from cholera, but no other cases have appeared and there is a feeling of security today.

Several silly rumors were circulated last night that the cholera had appeared in New York, say a right investigation by the health officer failed to reveal anything more serious than the cholera morbus or cramps. The president of the board of health said at 1 o'clock this afternoon that not a single case of cholera had been reported in New York, and on this side of the Atlantic the two at Hook Island. The two cases on Hook Island, which occurred last night by Dr. Hoffman as virulent cholera, have been thoroughly investigated by the health officer, and a most careful diagnosis, report both men to be suffering from acute diarrhea. Both cases on Hook Island occurred today and on a fair way to recovery.

The authorities do not consider that there is any danger of cholera spreading in the city, but the president's orders establishing a twenty days' quarantine are strictly carried out.

Dr. Jenkins, the "Annamay" quarantine officer, showed his horse in an attitude of defiance by declaring that he would not obey the president's order, but will release them when his judgment indicates. The health officer, Dr. Hendricks says that if Dr. Jenkins does not obey the United States government officers will prevent the ship from landing at any other port.

There are over 200 officials on the vessel, and they are being quarantined. None of these are permitted to leave the vessel, although the president's order stipulates that ships transport-

NEW CLOAKS AND WRAPS.

Introduction of Fall and Winter Styles. This department, made famous to people in this section by its greatness and its ability to satisfy every taste, price and desire, is again reinforced by an endless accumulation of new goods. Garments are cut longer this season; some having plaited backs, Russian effects, etc.

For Misses and Children:

Pretty New Style Jacket, Reefers, Gretchens and Newmarkets in all the new shadings.

FOR LADIES.

Our new importations unfold a charming repertoire of novelties. Elegant Astrachan Jackets in 32, 34, 36 and 42-inch lengths.

Plush Sacks, ranging from $10.00 upwards. Capes, Newmarket Reefers, Box Coats, Top Coats, Russian Blouse Coats, and a wealth of outside wraps of every description. THE SHADES—Bright and dark navy blue and blacks predominate in both plain and fur-trimmed.

And of Carpets and Draperies.

Look at our east window. It will illustrate what we are having about. AS IN DRY GOODS, WE LEAD.

We are satisfied with the show in this department, and years of study and experience have made us very particular. The fashion fanciers have accomplished great results. Patterns run to French designs and colorings this year, and also in Dresden colors. This department (second floor) will be found rich with the art novelties and gems. YOU ARE EXPECTED TO BE PRESENT BY INVITATION OF Spring & Company.
