

AN INTERNAL MACHINE. Dastardly Attempt on Governor Flower's Life.

A Package of Dynamite and Matches Sent Through the Mail.

New York, Sept. 17.—The life of Governor Rowell P. Flower was threatened by an infernal machine sent to him at the Windsor hotel, this city, a couple of days ago.

The affair was sent to Governor Flower's mail. It was received at the hotel office and sent to the governor's room by a clerk.

When the package was received it was opened and it was found to contain a box so curious that no one would open it.

A consultation was held and it was decided to send word to police headquarters, which was done.

The box was opened and the contents were found to be a package of dynamite and matches.

It is claimed by the police that this is the toughest case in its history; that frequently men have been fished out of the water, but never before.

Judge Haggerty's Lecture to the Notorious "Dolly Bates."

The police department has written on the "Dolly Bates" matter a fine time, but when she stood up yesterday before the court she hung her head in shame.

The court has evidently concluded that Dolly is beyond redemption and she will be sent up to the penitentiary.

There were some places to send you for life. You are no good to yourself or any one else, and it is a pity there is not some place to get you out of the way.

Your life is a disgrace to the city and I can only think you were ashamed to come here. The very sight of you makes me and all the officers of this city sick.

Everything is ready for the great West Michigan fair, which will be in full blast by Tuesday.

A HEAVY SQUAD. A Man With a Corion Nose Begins a Fight on the Street.

Smearla Navelo commenced a heavy fight yesterday by garroting in the Circuit court against the C. & W. M. railway. It seems from the writ and affidavits that the plaintiff is a native of Italy.

CHOLERA IN NEW YORK. New York Has Stamped Out the Plague.

The Officials Are Sure That They Have Stayed Its Progress.

New York, Sept. 17.—It begins to look as though the authorities had stamped out every vestige of cholera in this city. The board of health issued a bulletin at 10 o'clock this morning.

The bulletin states that no cases of cholera have appeared in this city since the last bulletin.

Dr. Edson says that the County girls better, but it is impossible to tell whether the cholera has been stamped out.

ROBBING THE FARMER. Starting Charges Made Against the Millers.

A Conspiracy to Defraud the Wheat Growers of the Northwest.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—The Herald this morning says: Farmers in the wheat growing states of the northwest will be astonished by the revelations made in a book which will be issued from the press today.

The book will lay bare for the first time the vicious workings of a combination of elevator men, millers, and railroad men to deceive and swindle the farmer.

MR. FISHER'S FAVORS. Board of Education Standing Committees.

For Once the Presidents Selections Are Generally Approved.

The adjourned meeting of the board of education held last night was for the purpose of listening to the roster of presidents named by the newly elected president, E. B. Fisher.

The president evidently gave considerable thought to the personnel of the different committees and it is generally conceded that he used good judgment in his selections.

The pastor of the German Lutheran church on North Division street extended to the board the same invitation that was extended and accepted by the board to attend a lecture in the church parlor next Thursday evening.

The board looked surprised as the secretary was reading the invitation, and when he finished Trustee Blair said: "I would like to be accepted and placed on it."

The board members were appointed as follows: Teachers—Fisher, Husted, Maybury, Stevens, Whitlow, Freeman, and Blair.

Supplies—Lefthand, Pallen, Crossman, and Valerius. Special Training—Housman, Husted, Fitzgerald, Rowson and Bradford.

The committee on the school was organized and the following officers for the day: E. B. Fisher, president; J. H. Ercott and F. C. Beach, referees.

THE ALPINE SCHOOL WAR. Father Smith Tells of His Grievance in Court.

Circuit Court Commissioner Hughes' office was filled to its utmost capacity yesterday afternoon by the residents of the school district in Alpena, known as the "Cordis" district.

The case of the school house was heard and the testimony of Father Smith, who has been the religious adviser of the people for years and who has held many of the religious offices in the district, was taken.

He gave a short history of the building of the school, told how for years the people had met in the school house to hear, read and sing, and how the school was built.

THE ROOMS OF A QUEEN.

GRAND AND GORGEOUS, BUT EXCEEDINGLY UNHOMELIKE.

Victoria's Huge Palace in Windsor and How the Dreary Waste of Stateley Room After Room Impressed an American Woman Who Visited It.

The Scotch moors, as I saw them in July, are already fading in my memory into a soft hazy landscape of russet and green, for the heather was not yet purple; but the sun caught the spray of a mountain rivulet falling on its rocky way, or turned more vivid the intense green of those patches of verdure in the midst of the brown of the heather, which we think seen so unnatural when artists who paint in the highlands transfer them to canvas. These high lights stay by one when the hills and all the ordinary features of that charming Scotland melt into the dimmest of memories.

One of these summer's high lights was a visit to the queen's private apartments at Windsor. I don't know what red tape and long waiting and diplomatic reference it took to get the permit. I only know that the thoughtful American girl who remembered me and made me one of the four who were to invade the sacred precincts conferred much pleasure on me, and even though we were all so disappointed in what we saw, it was human, was it not, to be delighted to go where few enter?

We looked upon the herd of commoners who filed by us in the wake of the clerics, who every hour takes throngs of sightseers through the main part of Windsor castle. Their hands were red with Bandoliers, but we loftily ignored guidebooks for one day.

There were but three high lights there to remember. One was General Gordon's Bible, before which I could have knelt, for it was the well worn book of a soldier who took it into the tented field as his companion.

There is no mistaking a book that has been read, the very way it lies open, the invisible marks of reverential fingers, the color of the paper which the open air produces.

It disturbed me to see it in a hideous little glass case; all ornamentation and filigree. Very fine in its way, I suppose, and taking many pounds out of the hero's sister's pocket, who gave it to the queen, but so inappropriate to the simple life of that heroic soul, that martyr to the mistakes of his country.

TWO MARBLE STATUES.

The second high light in the queen's own domicile was the view from the state drawing room windows of the avenue stretching miles and miles away. It was sunny and bright, for some far back English sovereign or his wise gardener had, perhaps, evidently believed that with all his possessions there was nothing quite equal to the God given one of sunshine, and so there was a wide strip of the greenest turf in the world on either side of the drive. There were no parterres, no fountains or statues, simply this broad open space, where her majesty could walk or drive for miles, hidden by the fumes; trees on either side from the starting eyes of the public.

The third high light in those dimly magnificent palace corridors was the life size modeling of the queen and the prince consort, made since his death. The marble was scarcely pure enough to represent as perfect an ideal of wifely love as any sculptor is ever likely to give. The queen's face turned toward her husband reveals the utmost devotion, the most tender entreaty, as she leans against him imploring him not to leave her. Whoever has not understood wifely adoration before must go away from this exquisite exemplification of it with a new knowledge of what its possibilities are. I do not even know if it is good modeling. I only know that, intricate, cold and unresponsive as marble is supposed to be, it speaks in the face and attitude of the queen as no painting I remember to have seen.

I wish I could feel such genuine admiration of the prince, but he is so English, so handsome, so far away. His head is turned quite from his wife, and as she clings to him he coldly points to distant lands.

NO TRACE OF HOME.

There was nothing else in these gorgeous rooms that stayed by me. There seemed to me miles of corridors, drawing rooms, little and big dining rooms and parlors, all glitter and glow. The usual gilt and onyx, marble and onyx, gloss of satin and rich stuffs, the dazzle of luminous glass, pervaded the entire miles of apartments. We kept looking for some room where there might be a trace of homeliness.

We longed to see a workbasket, even if her majesty doesn't do needlework, and a sitting room where there might be an ordinary writing desk, a bookcase with some well thumbed volumes or a chair—an American rocking chair even, in which a loving woman had rocked her babies to sleep.

The doors were closed on the queen's and prince consort's bedroom, but ingenious inquiries caused the old housekeeper to give up their secrets. There was no difference. They lived in there in state, and I began to think my childish ideas that kings and queens slept in their crowns was not far wrong.—Elizabeth B. Custer in New York Sun.

CHANCE FOR A BEST.

Mrs. De Fashion—Is Mrs. De Style at home?
 Servant—No, ma'am.
 "Will she be back soon, do you think?"
 "No, ma'am; she'll be away all day, I'm thinking. Ye see I've given her notice, an' she's gone out ter find a nussal good enough ter fill my place. 'Tis might come in an rest y'rself. There's none o' ur family home to talk ye to death."
 —New York Weekly.

PRISON LABOR

One of the issues that must not be lost sight of in this election is the matter of prison labor. The question presented to this city is this: Shall the prisoners be allowed to concentrate prison labor upon furniture at prices ruinous to manufacturers here and at a loss to the state?

It is stated that the warden at Jackson is getting ready to put convicts at work at table making and at folding beds upon a design and patent, the work of a convict from whom the warden has purchased the patent in his own name.

It is reliably stated that under the contract at Jackson in the winter are furnished contractors at five or six cents a piece, and that very nice beds, instead, the best made there, are furnished the contractors in the winter at $1.85 a piece.

Free labor cannot compete against such things, and the candidates for the legislature who will not pledge themselves against this criminal policy of the prison managers should be deflected at the polls regarding it.

HENRY P. McCOMBER showed good sense in advising the Democratic county convention to endorse L. V. Moulton for probate judge. There is more involved in the move than the one officer Mr. Moulton stands for. Since there is to be union on Mr. Richardson, he should be strengthened by other unions to secure the aid of such men as Mr. Moulton and his friends.

POVERTY, misery and suffering are the principal curses of such congested and epidemic as cholera. What of work, low wages and all that these enforce upon the poor breed the harvest of death. Crowded tenements, foul air, decayed meat, insufficient food and soap for bodily warmth invite means to step in and do its worst.

IMMIGRATION is to be stopped until cholera has ceased to rage. The steam ships have agreed to this and it is full time for this action. The arrival of one ship after another, day after day, carrying cholera stricken passengers has become alarming to the whole country.

A DREDGE is needed by this city for sanitary purposes. It could be used in forming a channel to the mouths of the rivers from the center of the river, that in low water would carry high tide to the running water instead of settling, as it does, near the shore, to breed disease.

IR, in his appointment of committees on the board of education, President Fisher has succeeded in quelling the religious prejudices that cropped out from the school election, he deserves the gratitude of all friends of the public schools.

THE NEWSBOYS' RIVAL

Pointers on the Latest Automatic Invention. A Mechanical Contrivance That Sells Papers and Makes Change.

It is generally understood that the notorious Cartz hung himself with rope furnished him by Mr. Mills of the Workman. The Herald cut down the victim.

It is most sincerely to be hoped that this river-improving enterprise of this city, will not be allowed to die out. The first thing to be considered is the purchase of a dredge.

BEFORE the Democratic stump orators get fully wound up for tariff deliriances they should see Mr. Cleveland's letter of acceptance. There is a big difference between free trade and a reform of the tariff.

Mrs. Foster of Iowa is of the opinion that if women go into politics they will have a purifying effect. Hardly, if they follow the advice of Mrs. Foster and vote the Republican ticket.

In this country it is as prosperous and happy as the Workman claims it is, the editor should come out for the Republicans and maintain that well enough should be let alone.

As a labor reformer, in these piping times of Republican prosperity, the editor of the Workman should rise up and explain these strikes and lockouts.

CLOTHING TALK!

At about this time clothing is an interesting subject for all men, and we're going to tell you about our good clothes.

Our Fall and Winter stock is now in and is well worthy of your inspection, consisting as it does, of the best things that the leading markets of the trade afford. Suits, Overcoats, Trousers, Furnishings and Hats, all of them, selected with the greatest care and liberality and all of them models of their kind.

While the staple clothes hold their own, we have large assortments of the fancy Scotch Cheviot's Whip Cord and dressed Worsted, so popular with the well-dressed man this season. In shapes, the single breasted, straight cut sack is extra stylish, while the double-breasted and cutaway sacks are very popular, and the three button cutaway frocks go on forever.

Fall Overcoats are no longer a luxury, but a necessity. Our line of them is immense—all the latest shades at popular prices. Our new Fall Trousers are perfect fittings and the noblest things in town. As always, in Men's fixings and Hats we have the right things at prices much less than those of exclusive dealers.

With a stock and prices such as ours should you not get your Fall and Winter clothes of us? You certainly should.

PARING JAIL BREAKING.

DAVE PADDOCK'S REMARKABLE ESCAPE FROM JOLLET.

An Almost Superhuman Display of Energy Exerted by a Convict to Get Out of Prison—Working a Few Minutes at a Time for Over Two Years.

A section of iron bar cut from the cell door of Dave Paddock by that noble knight of the dark lanes...

To fully appreciate the difficulty of cutting out of a cell it must be remembered that these three times every hour during the night, at irregular intervals, a guard wearing padded slippers called "snak shoo" by the convicts—makes his rounds...

Next he began saving the bars on his floor a little at a time. Night after night he worked on the padding of the guard's shoes...

One reason assigned for these unexpected outbreaks is that the chapel of the Sun had been "down" the management for a short time...

By careful working he made a key out of lead pipe that a plumber had dropped near his workbench in the shop.

Another week elapsed before his ankle would permit his making the attempt. The night came, however, and along with it the moonlight he was to make his lower.

His absence was not discovered from prison until the guard went to unlock the cell in the morning. The guard went out on the clearest escape that had taken place at Joliet, and stamped Paddock as a genius.

If you happen to have among the family silver an old fashioned castor, don't give it up uncomplainingly and wonder if it "can't be melted up into something useful."

New Government Lightships. Corfield Point Lightship, No. 32, which recently called from Halifax for New York...

BLOOD ON THE MOON.

Dana, of the New York Sun, Daily Announces His Method of Reformation. There is considerable talk and not a little anxiety in the ranks of organized labor in New York over recent editorial utterances of The Sun.

All this, however, did not prepare the working people of the city for the Typographical union. In its issue of Aug. 9 The Sun printed this editorial:

We observe that some Democratic campaign orator here in New York or somewhere else, has appointed a subcommittee to inquire into the relations of the Typographical union with the business of printing in the respective localities of such newspapers.

Let the cause or causes be what they may, it is a falling among laborers in this city that The Sun's pronounced animosity to labor unions does no good to the Typographical union.

My objection, it is in considering such a piece of the newspaper proprietors will be governed entirely by their opinion of the availability of the typesetting machines.

This is serious. There are leaders in the labor movement in this city who greet you with one hand while in the other they hold a dagger ready to pierce your heart.
