Rain Makers Ordered to Stop Work.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—All Washington has been up in arms against the rain makers, who have been carrying on their experiments with explosives at Fort Meyer, on the Virginia shore of the Potomac. Apparently changing their intentions, as announced yesterday, not to try and make rain in real earnest, but simply to test their apparatus in a modified form, the rain makers started in shortly after midnight to experiment with the full force of their detonating compounds. The first explosion shook every building in the capital, and woke up all the children and old people, to whom it caused no little alarm and dangerous disturbances. This explosion was followed by others at intervals all through the night. A large party of the rain makers, who are in charge of the weather bureau, emphatically deny that either of these result from the rain-making bomb experiment. On the contrary, he contends the experiments are being merely efforts to sustain the visionary scientific mania, as he calls them, of Prof. Dr. Arthur T. Dyer, who has been asserting that all those associated with him ought to be arrested and held in custody for the purpose of testing the fact that they are acting under authority of an established law, but that they are not.

REPUBLICAN DEFEAT INDICATED. It is fair to assume that the Republicans under the circumstances will not be able to win the election.

What are the signs and influences that foreshadow the nation's verdict? The Republicans have most to fear from the low price of labor and farm products.

A MAN who is in favor of cheap Chinese labor certainly is not very earnestly opposed to contract labor from the pauper hordes of Europe.

YORK for Richardson for congress if you want the most effective man to office the special interests of this district.

WE ARE SEVEN. Unfading interest has made many a fortune and wrecked many a railroad.

HYMNS—"What do you do to cure the nation's ills?" "Pat everything red."

It is a question whether the poker-room should be called the ante-room or the drawing-room—Binghamton Leader.

"I don't see why you should be so leary in this matter," remarked Mr. Lushford at breakfast.

"I have just one ambition in life," said a young looking citizen. "What is that?"

"To get the lion's share of my share of the pie," said the man.

THE largest theater in the world is the Opera House in Paris. It has a seating capacity of 3,000,000.

THE little house which Benedict Arnold is said to have planned his treason has just been demolished to make room for a large building.

THE hill near Jerusalem where the crucifixion of Jesus occurred is formed of limestone. The shores of the Dead Sea are lined with sandstone.

SEVEN years ago a Scotch woman established in London a "Home for the aged." It has since been a great success.

WITH a fortune of $750,000 safely laid out in bonds, the late Mrs. H. H. H. did not appear again on the stage.

GOOK HONG, grand master of the Chinese Masonic order, which has just elected its 100th grand master in Boston.

JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS, the Southern dialectician and literary craftsman for Joel Chandler Harris is being set on foot to revisit the little castle town of Okefenokee.

ANNEH THORNTON, who died at Montclair, N. J., recently with 99 days of suffering, recently left 11 great-grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

GENERAL BEAUREGARD, as his name implies, is of French descent, but his family was long ago deeply interested in the colonies in their struggle for independence.

CHARLES WOOD had an uncommon gift for making the most of his money.

FRANK and BILLY would probably be agreed that the Chinese and European papers should be "showed" to come in.

JOURNALISTIC ENTERPRISE.

A New Reporter's Wide Awake Ability is being generally appreciated. The following dialogue is in substance what was heard recently in the editorial room of a Grand Rapids paper:

Editor—Well, young man, what have you got to say about this?

Reporter—Nothing very much, only Miss De laff last Friday for a week's visit with her friends and will return tomorrow.

Editor—That's first rate young man. What else do you know?

Reporter—Well I heard that Miss Fairweather gave a high tea last week.

Editor—That's good young man, you are doing finely, but look it out carefully if it takes you a week. Is that all you know?

Reporter—I hear that one of our city officials made a political speech the night before last.

Editor—You don't say? Now that's first rate. Just go up and ask him for his notes.

Reporter—That's just what I did before coming to this office, but he refused to accommodate me.

Editor—What reason did he give for refusing you?

Reporter—He said everybody had their own candidate.

Editor—Then we don't want them, you or he, but if you have got a name of the H. H. List. Now, is that all you have got, young man?

Reporter—No, sir. I heard that a man fell in the river a week ago and got wet.

Editor—That's first-class, young man, but don't use more than half a column to write it up; and now tell me—is that all you have got to say?

Reporter—No, sir. On my way to the office this morning I heard the Catholic choir got out all A. P. A. candidates.

Editor—You don't say! Now, that is first-class news. You are doing well. Your wages will be raised fifty cents a week. I tell you that.

CITY AND SUBURBS.SAVED BY THE METER.*BARBER INVESTIGATION.

Are you on the list? Last call for registration.

Alderman Fitzpatrick of Lansing, is visiting friends in the city.

One of the new motor cars was started on the Shawmut avenue and Cherry street last yesterday.

George Leonard and Fred Kepler were arrested on West street yesterday for shooting off fire arms.

Don't forget to register today so you can reward your friends and punish your enemies tomorrow.

The sixth ward Baptist mission are preparing an elaborate programme to be presented at the church Friday evening.

The Sunday Eagle is in support of the statement that Judge Alsted admitted foreigners to citizenship Sunday morning.

John Keller, 45 years old, was moved from the Ohio house yesterday to the L. B. A. home, by request of City Physician Bosman.

The Democrats have cornered the band market for tonight. The Republicans will have to wait their wind without instruments.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Hayes, widow of Kalamaus will occur from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. M. Corkey, 41 Broadway.

Remember that today is the last day of registration. The "polls" will be open until 5 o'clock this evening and every voter should see that his name is on the list.

Rev. W. A. Frye spoke in Good Temple's hall yesterday afternoon. Recitations, instrumental and vocal music added to the pleasure of the entertainment.

Minna Sinclair, Mand McDonnell, Ada Stout, Cora Stoddard, J. P. Tabor, Joseph Fox, Charley Sward and Daniel Martin all of them "rounded up" will be in police court this morning for being drunk.

It is W. G. Garty, the alleged "Middle of the Road" man, who has done so much for nothing" who is finally thrown off his mask and announced as an out-and-out Republican. J. Riley Denison should go and do likewise.

James Derry late in the employ of H. E. Millard, the barber, has purchased the privileges of the old Monroe street stand and will make the barber's promenade for the convenience of his patrons. Mr. Millard will hereafter sit in the Eagle hotel barber shop.

THE THEATRES.

"Ole Olson" drew an audience to the Grand opera house last night that occupied every available space, crowded the boxes and lined the walls.

The audience was well pleased, there could be no mistake about that, as the applause was earnest and prolonged.

James T. McAlpine, who assumed the title role, scored a success and established himself as a favorite with the patrons of the Grand.

He has certainly improved as an entertainer since his last appearance here, when himself and Dolly Foster, his wife, appeared with "A Soap Bubble" company.

McAlpine is an excellent "waterfall," there are none better on the stage of Sweden. His characterization of the Swede is superior to that of Gus Heege or Hen Hendricks. He is not so attentive to detail as Heege nor so English as Hendricks, but he is more natural than either, and can sing both of them off the stage. His dialect is not so excellent as the unappetizable and he does not force himself on the audience.

Dolly Foster has a clever and interesting repertoire. Her songs and dances were encored well she was tired. R. C. Champlain, who formerly resided in this city, is rapidly advancing in his profession and as the erratic doctor he cannot be improved upon to a very large extent.

J. H. Cook and George Mitchell were acceptable, and Alice Irving and Louise Arnold were clever. The four Swedish ladies created a furore and were called upon time and time again.

Manager Sailer's children acted as if "the man's horn."

The patrons of Smith's Opera house will have a feast of good things this week. Tomorrow night the election returns will be read from the stage, the most complete arrangements having been made for that purpose.

Water Sluom's Unsuccessful Attempt to Commit Suicide.

That such an expensive and inoffensive thing as a gas meter should be the means of saving life may seem strange, but a case of this kind came to light yesterday.

The victim of the joke is Walter Sluom, at one time something of a "high roller" of the town and at one time quite prominent in society circles.

Sluom about a year ago was employed as bookkeeper for the Kautzer Brewery company, but his affairs became so mixed that he concluded to take a trip.

While here he formed habits that were not only expensive, but a menace to health, and as a result of his fast career his health became greatly impaired.

After staying a year he returned last Wednesday and sought employment as a bookkeeper.

He failed to find work and an invoice of his assets showed his cash-purse to be one cent. Going to his room he took a bath and carefully corked all the places through which gas could escape.

The deadly stuff laid down on his bed. The landlady in passing the gas meter saw the corking and was unusually fast and at once set out to find the leak.

In passing Sluom's door she detected the corking and immediately knocked and tried the door. It was locked and she at once gave an alarm.

The door was finally opened by a locksmith who was sent for and Sluom was found upon the bed apparently dead.

Several letters to friends were found in his room, but they were destroyed in the hope that the attempt at self destruction would not be made public.

The letters stated that he could not get employment and that the diet from which he was suffering was no better. He closed the letters by saying, "I will see you in Good bye."

After recovering from the effects of the gas Sluom said he was very sorry and that he was ashamed of his conduct to take his life. He is now being cared for by his friends.

BOYS WITH POWDER.

Origin of Humor of Dynamite Under the City Hall.

There was a sensational rumor in circulation yesterday that the police had unearthed a plot to wreck the city hall.

It was stated that the authorities had discovered a powerful dynamite bomb secreted in the basement store room of the poor department of sufficient power to wreck the entire building.

The police when asked about the matter said they had heard the story. They also stated that there was no truth in the matter. They said, however, that one of the boys who had been arrested on Lyon and Ottawa streets in response to a rumor that a gang of boys were playing with a can about half full of powder and destroyed it, and those in charge at headquarters say the story of the bomb was started by the finding of the powder.

Flowers Transported to Ice.

A decided novelty is on view at the Royal aquarium, Westminster, in connection with the exhibition of the national chrysanthemum society.

For the first time in history flowers from New Zealand have been imported in ice, and the experiment has proved a complete success.

In the antipodes the culture of the chrysanthemum has awakened a good deal of interest. There are 400 acres of chrysanthemum culture in New Zealand.

It occurred to Mr. Earland, gardener to a gentleman living at Wellington, to take a few of his finest flowers to the Meat Refrigerating works. There they were placed in tin cans with the water seal and packed in ice.

The tin was opened at the Royal aquarium and found to contain each a solid block of transparent ice, in the middle of which, embedded as it were in pure crystal, was a beautiful bloom, perfect in shape and color and comparable in appearance with the finest varieties customarily exhibited in England.

In recognition of the success of the enterprise, taken in conjunction with its merits, a silver gilt medal was awarded, the feeling being that by way of encouragement to the New Zealand growers a special prize should be given.—London Telegraph.

Russia's Danger.

Should the czar die the principal danger will come, not from the nihilists, but from the quarters of the Grand Duke Vladimir's car's brother and the most baneful of one of the most ambitious, intriguing and unscrupulous of German princes.

His influence has been bad for Russia. It covers the way for the extravagance in dress has excited Russian ladies to even greater excesses in their fashions than they were wont to indulge in, which is certainly saying a great deal.

For the Russian women have always been with our own fair competitors the best patrons of the most extravagant Parisian modists and dressmakers, and it is this Mecklenburg princess that St. Petersburg owes the objectionable habit which has now become so popular in the grande monde of Russia of having roulette tables in all the most select and "swagging" saloons where very high play indeed is indulged in.

The play at the house of Princess Betsy Bistinsky, for example, is very high, and a young gentleman of fortune anxious to lose most of his shelves in gambling by the side of the Nova need not be any means so to be anxious to do so, but can "put himself on the straw," as the French say, very easily by the roulette played at half a dozen of the best houses in St. Petersburg.—Cor. Philadelphia Times.
